COMMENCEMENT

1943

Give a cheer for Waltham,
Make it loud and strong.
Give a cheer for the teammates,
Then they'll know we're helping them along.
Cheer the team to Victory,
Let the colors fly,
For its W-A-L-T-H-A-M
For Waltham High.

WALTHAM, MASSACHUSETTS

A Yearbook of Events

1942 - 1943

FOREWORD

Never has the Mirror been published in such a time of strife as this. Gone is the relatively slow moving pace of a peaceful world. Now all moves with a speed that is breath-taking. Events of such tremendous proportions occur so upon the heels of each other that it is easy to lose touch with the everyday common places to which we cling in a sane world.

For this reason, this issue of the Mirror is especially important, for within its pages are shown pictures of people that you and you and you know. You have laughed with them, worked with them, studied with them, gone through all the joys and sorrows of the usual school year with them.

When the going gets a little tough a glance through these pages should help to recall old times and bring things back to their proper perspective.

Keep the issue of a Mirror of a sane school year in an insane world.

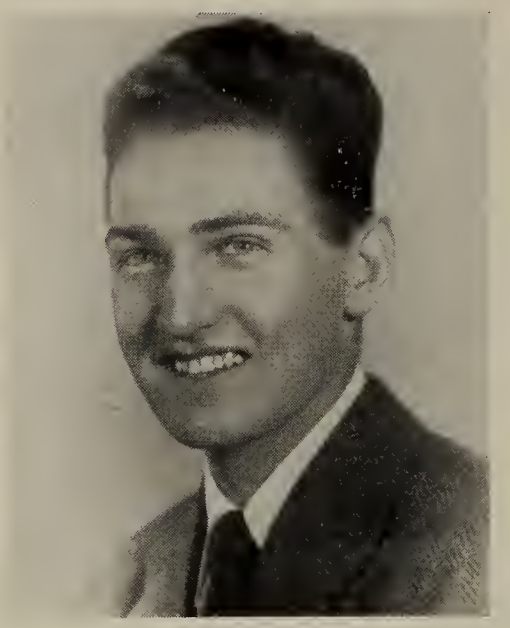
Class Poem



BERKLEY HATHORNE
Writer of Class Poem

WE PRAY

We pray that classes may be free
From what befalls class "Forty-three,"
A class that's doomed before it starts,
A class of "Math" instead of Arts,
Of boys whose future is but one,
And that's to cloud the Rising Sun.

We pray that we may live to see,
The day when all the world is free
From fear of war, of pain, of hate,
From men who drag the world's estate
From friendly love to strife and shame: —
We pray, O God, for peace, our aim.

We pray that those who left their school
To win this aim, may ever rule
The future world with care, and thought
Of justice which our teachers taught,
And thus make earth eternally
A place of peace and harmony.

Amen.

BERKLEY HATHORNE

Class of 1943

ABRAMO, MARY GLORIA
Business Course
"Eat, drink, and be merry,for tomorrow . . . . ." — With her pet likes cokes, "any kind of food", and checrful friends — this seems to be Mary's motto! At present, her ardent ambition is to visit California and, on her return, come back to Waltham High as a teacher and express her opinions. Though she admits talking too rapidly and other minor faults, we all like her friendly, sunny disposition which has won many friends on the Dramatic and Commercial Clubs.

ALGERI, CLARA LOUISE
College Course
This talented little lady may always be found, when school is over, dashing after her favorite hobby — music: records, concerts, radio — "Gerri" loves them all. The Dramati Club, birthplace of her pet expression, "H'yeah come!", and the Literary Staff of "The Mirror" also keep her spare time well filled. After graduation she plans to attend college, and her ambition — Well, "Gerri," we all want an autographed copy of your first book!

ALLIA, DOMENICA CONSTANCE
Practical Arts Course
"Demi" can often be heard saying, "Hi Chum," and, "Hi Babe." She wants to become an artist and her hobby is reading. She likes new clothes, music, hot fudge sundaes, and 'Red Skelton's" program. She dislikes silly, noisy people. Her worst fault is being too quiet. She is often seen lifting her eyebrows. She was on the honor roll 1, 2.

ANDERSON, EDWARD WYETH
Civics Course
"Andy" or "Swede", as he is Called, wants to become a boatswain in the Navy. He has the habit of saying "Pretty Sharp" along with half a dozen other expressions. Harry James is by far the best radio program as far as "Swede is concerned who would like to spend the rest of his life listening to him with a sweet little "Navy wife" by his side.

ANDERSON, JEANNE PHYLLIS
College Course
Jeanne has the lofty ambition of studying law at B. U. and later joining the SPARS. She is always saying, "Hurry up, Webb, old girl." Her hobbies are singing and reading movie magazines. She likes the movies, the theatre, hockey games, and swimming, but dislikes having her name misspelled. Her favorite radio programs are Lux Radio and Take it or Leave it; her best virtue is being good natured. Activities bowling and honor roll.

AGOPIAN, ALICE A.
"Boots" wants to go to the Chamberlain School in Boston and become a buyer. If not, she threatens to get married. Watch out, boys! She dislikes snobbish people and is often heard saying, "You ole hen!" or "That ain't bad!" Her hobby is dancing, and her pet likes are the Navy and Marines, also listening to Bob Hope! Her worst fault is not doing her homework. Activities include basketball 1, 2, 3.

ALLEN, PATRICIA MARY
Business Course
This well-liked little Fred Waring fan finds her greatest amusement in "eating with Jean". She is a member of the Dramatic Club and belonged to the Jr. Nominating Committee. Pat's immediate destination is night school and work in an office, and her ambition, a good one for everyone, to be a success in her own line.

ALLIE, MARGARET VIRGINIA
Business — Stenographic
"Peggy" expects to join the WAVES where she hopes to become an officer. "Hurry up" she says frequently. She dislikes conceited people and being called by her last name, but she likes Bob Hope, Harry James, and Alan Ladd. Waiting for a certain person is a pet peeve, while her faults are shyness and persistence, and her virtue is getting along with people. Activities include Honor Roll 1, 2; Commercial Club; Dramatic Club; bowling; archery; and basketball.

ANDERSON, GEORGE L. JR.
Practical Arts Course
"Andy" or "Gidge" wishes to become a gunner in the navy. "Ya, know — What do you say?" are the favorite expressions of this member of the Senior Nominating Committee. He likes red hair and pictures of a certain girl, as well as the "9:20 Club" and Bob Hope, but he strongly dislikes classical music.

ANDERSON, LORRAINE IRVING
Practical Arts Course
"Jerry's" favorite expression is "Are you kidding?" She plans to attend the Kathleen Dell Secretarial School and become a Medical Secretary. She has been active in Dramatic Club, Archery 1 and 2, Basketball 1, and Volleyball 1, 2. Lorraine likes Harry James' orchestra and Cats.

Class of 1943

ANSARA, FREDERICK NICKOLAS
Accounting Course
"Frik's" hobbies are golf and bowling and his destination is the Army or the leather business. He likes all kinds of sports, traveling and meeting famous people. He also likes to hear symphonies over the radio and in Boston. "Frik" has been active as Home Room Mirror Agent 1, 2, 3 and in the Commercial Club.

AQUILIA, VIOLA LORETTA
Business Course
"Vi's" destination after leaving school is a business office. Her main ambition is to live a successful, happy life. "Vi" has as her hobby drawing and needlework. She likes dancing and movies. She has a great dislike for ironing becausé there always seems to be an endless batch to be done. "Lux Theatre" is her favorite program. Her worst fault is arguing, and her best virtue is making friends.

AUCOIN, YVONNE THERESE
College Course
"Wait for me" is Yvonne's time worn phrase. She hopes to go to dramatic school and become a radio star. Yvonne dislikes jitterbugging and jazz music, so you might guess her pet likes would be waltzing and beautiful music. She admits her worst fault is being late. Her activities include Dramatic Club, 1: and Cast of Dramati Club play, 3. Being good natured is Yvonne's best virtue, and collecting poems is her hobby.

BALLO, SARAH
Practical Arts Course
Sally wants some day to be a reporter and has hopes of becoming a foreign correspondent. She loves to take candid camera shots and to eat apples, but dislikes waiting for people. She also likes a certain person in the Air Corps. Her pet saying is "Hello, Funny Face!"

BARTEL, WILLIAM
Technical Course
"Oh, what a dilly", is the favorite expression of Willie, whose ambition is to own Grover Cronin's with Roscoe, but is open to suggestions. He is in the Tech course and his destination is some good technical school. Willie's best virtues are never satisfying anyone and getting rid of the old "moola", and his worst fault is vainly trying to satisfy someone — anyone at all. He was on the committee for the Junior Prom and Senior Dance and his hobby is the occult science of photography.

ANTICO, ANNE ELIZABETH
Business Course
Anne's ambition is to be an accountant and to go to California with the "gang." "For goodness sake!" is Anne's favorite expression. Her activities include: Dramatic Club 2, 3; Commercial Club; Bookkeeper for Cafeteria and Usher at Parents Faculty Night, 1942.
She likes dancing, sports, clothes, hot fudge sundaes, and cakes; dislikes being teased or embarrassed. Best virtue is always smiling. Her mannerism is blushing. The "9:20 Club" is her favorite radio program.

ARNO, JOHN J.
Business Accounting Course
"Johnny" often says, "Keep it, and you'll always have it." After graduating he will join the fighting Marines and let those Japs have it. His ambition is to be in business someday. He likes Harry James.

AYLSWORTH, HARRIET ANDREA
Business Course
"Jewel," might be heard saying, "I'll tell Bobby", as she writes to "Dear Bob" during study. Her hobby is collecting Army Knick-Knacks, and her ambition is to work as a bookkeeper in an office. She dislikes having her name misspelled and mispronounced, but she likes the 9:20 Club. She thinks her worst fault is sleeping.

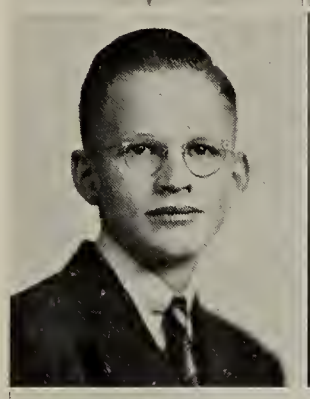
BARNES, DONALD PUTNAM
Practical Arts Course
"Put" usually walks around looking entirely bored with life and shouting, "Hello, Joe, what do you know?" He expects to be in the Army soon but later he's going to attend a radio school and get his radio operator's license. His hobby is and dislikes getting up early. His fishing. He likes to eat and sleep worst fault is being unsociable, and his best virtue is keeping his mouth shut. His activities include Track Team, 2 and Honor Roll, 2.

BARTLETT, FRANCIS
Practical Arts Course
To graduate is "Bart's" ambition and either the army or navy is his destination. "Are you kidding?" is his favorite expression, and sports of all kinds are his hobby.

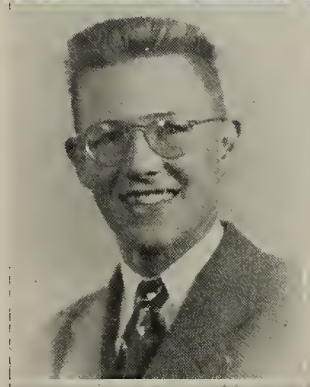
Class of 1943

BEAVER, CYNTHIA ANN
College Course
"Cindy" invariably says, "Here we go again", when she gets into trouble. Her very admirable ambition is to know Webster's Dictionary by heart. All her allowance is spent on her hobby — collecting records of Harry James. She plans to attend Radcliffe College. Her activities are Dramatic Club '41-42; bowling '40-43; basketball '41-42. Jack Benny, Spanish Rice and dancing are tops with her, while big hats in the movies and getting up at 7:45 every morning are her pet peeves. Her worst fault is curiosity; her best virtue, loyalty.

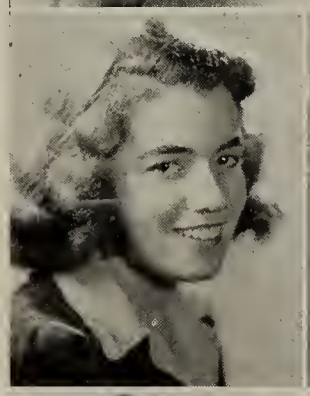
BLANCHARD, R. SUMNER, JR.
Technical Course
"Shorty", as Sumner is called, is planning to make his destination Antioch College where he will study to be a physicist. His accomplishments are the band, dramatic club, and the honor roll. Sumner likes Benny Goodman's orchestra and Jack Benny's radio program. In respect to one of his likes, he is different from most boys — he likes to work. His hobby is sports, and his favorite expression is "Why study?"



BLANCHARD, RICHARD ALBERT
Technical Course
"In a pig's eye!" says "Fussy". Wants nothing more than to be ontented in life but plans to join some branch of the service. Dick's pet likes include swing music, sports, "9:20 Club" and Bob Hope. Confesses his worst fault is "telling fibs" but makes up for it by being sincere. Every success, Dick!

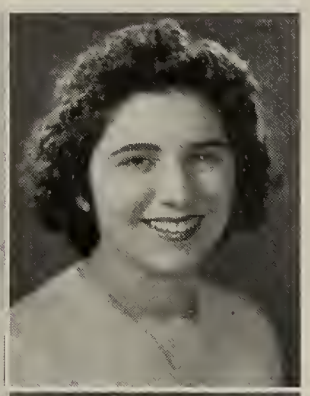


BONICA, FRANCES E.
Business Course
Many is the time we've heard a familiar voice in the corridor calling, "Hey, Boody, wait." It was Frannie, better known as Bonnie or Butch. Her ambition is to become a secretary although her worst fault is being late. She likes the 9:20 Club and bowling but dislikes chewing asperin gum in Rm. 118. We do not know her best virtue, but we can imagine it is her cheerfulness.



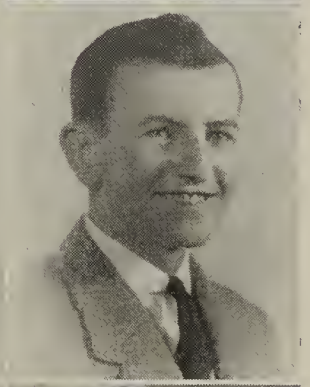
BOWLER, JEAN CATHERINE
College Course
"J. B." has talking and playing popular music as her hobbies. She wants to be a nurse or a teacher. Her likes are Esther Gray and all good sports. "Rusty" dislikes conceited people. Her favorite radio programs are Bing Crosby and Bob Hope. She admits she has a temper. Her best virtue is her sense of humor. Her outstanding mannerisms are, according to E. G., few.

BERGANTINO, CHRISTINE ANGELINA
Business Course
To be employed as a secretary in an advertising agency is "Tina's" ambition; but she will put this aside to help in the present emergency by joining the WAVES. Her time is passed in reading good books or doing fancy work. Often she is inclined to say "I can't." "Chris" enjoys listening to Bob Hope and "Lux Radio Theatre" when she isn't eating hot fudge sundaes. She definitely wishes people wouldn't call her "Beige."



BIUNDO, ROSE MARIE
Business-Stenographic Course
"Shorty" or "Chubby" (as you wish) is often heard shouting "Fudgicle" or "C'mon Dotty!" Her destination is an office and her ambition is to be one of the leading stenographers in the world. Her hobby is collecting jokes. Her pet likes are real Italian spaghetti and Red Skelton's program. Her pet dislikes are getting up in the morning and doing homework. Activities include Honor Roll 1, 2, 3.

BOMENGEN, WILBUR HERBERT
Practical Arts Course
Wilbur, known to many as Pat, is often heard saying, "Hey, beautiful!" When Pat isn't trying hard to be a First Class Machinist, you'll find him at the bowling alleys with Frank. Pat hopes to join the Navy, and he loves being generous to people, blondes especially. Bob Hope is Pat's favorite radio program. Even though blondes are O. K., he hates 'em to be stuck up, as he likes to take them out. Money burns a hole in his pockets.



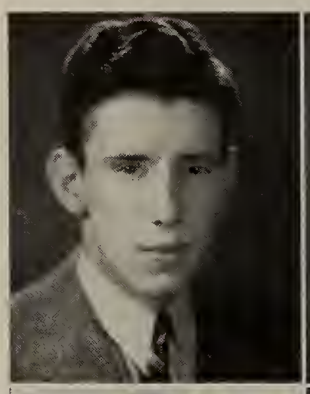
BOUDREAU, ROSE MARY
Business Course
Rose Boudreau, alias "Boody," is a lively little senior whom we shall miss. Her pet expression is "For cryin' out loud." She likes dancing but dislikes carrying books home. She is a member of the Commercial Club and after graduating intends to work in an office. Her ambition is to travel to the South Sea Islands. Although her worst fault is falling asleep in economics, her best virtue is being on time.

BOWMAN, JEANNETTE LOUISE
College Course
Jennie intends to make herself proficient in the business world. Her hobby is reading, and she is often caught listening to Lux Radio Theatre or Sammy Kay's Orchestra." She dislikes jitterbugging and onions. She likes hot fudge sundaes and letters from a certain Corporal in the army. She was a member of the Dramatic Club 3, and enjoys bowling. Jeannette's outstanding virtue is her pleasing disposition. Her worst fault is chewing gum in Mr. Hodge's room.

Class of 1943

BRITTON, JOHN JOSEPH

"Johnnie's" ambition is to become an accountant or C. P. A., but his destination is either the Army, Signal Corps or to become an Army radioman. Among his activities are football 1, 2, 3, and baseball for one year. He likes Howard Johnson's skimpy sodas, but dislikes conceited people and studying too hard. Borrowing is his worst fault, while his best virtue is eating.



BRITTON, ROBERT JOHN

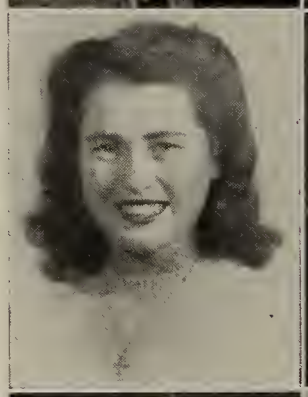
Business Course

When you hear "When do we eat?" you know that "Curly" is sure to be around. His life's ambition is to join the navy and his hobby is radio. He just loves Bob Hope, ice-cream sodas, swimming and blondes. He dislikes doing homework and his worst fault is doing it all night. Activities include football 1, 2.

BRODERICK, JUNE DOROTHY

Practical Arts Course

June's ambition is to become a good piano player. After graduating she hopes to go to business school in Boston. She likes Harry James' records and hot fudge sundaes with that certain person. "Red Skelton" is her favorite radio program and her pet expression is "Are you kidding?" Her one bad fault is being late.



BRUGGER, ELLEN

Stenographic Course

"El," whose hobby is to read about the French Revolution, has an ambition to see all the places in Europe of historial interest and to travel as far away from bookkeeping as possible. She often says "Yah" or "Huh". She doesn't seem to know her best virtue, but her worst fault is not finishing half the things she starts. Her favorite program is "Bob Hope."

BRUYA, HARRIET MARY

Stenographic Course

"H's" ambition is to travel beyond the Massachusetts border. She dislikes being called "Kid" and termed as "quiet". She especially likes Harry James and anything tall. For hobbies she sketches and collects records. Her destination is getting lost in the Washington, D. C., merry-go-round as a stenographer. Activities include Senior Nominating Committee, Dramatic Club, Commercial Club, Youth for Victory Council, Class Historian, and Honor Roll (off and on). She's frequently heard saying "Shoots". She is always trying something new and is very prompt.

BUCKLEY, EMILY ALICE

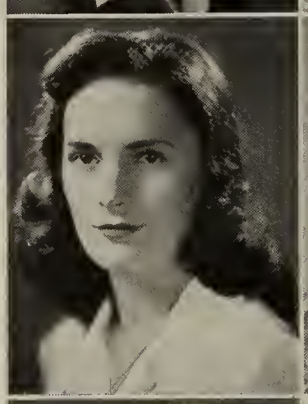
Practical Arts Course

"Bucky's" ambition is to make good in whatever she does. "Duchess'" hobby is writing letters to a certain soldier. She is going to work and to save for a future home. She is always saying "Fine" or "Honest?" Her favorite radio programs are Lux Radio Theatre and Kay Kyser; her worst fault is being lazy. She likes pop corn and dislikes sloppy people. Her activities: Junior Nominating Committee, Basketball 1, 2, 3; Bowling 1, 2, 3; Archery 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3.

BURLEY, LOUISE M.

Business Course

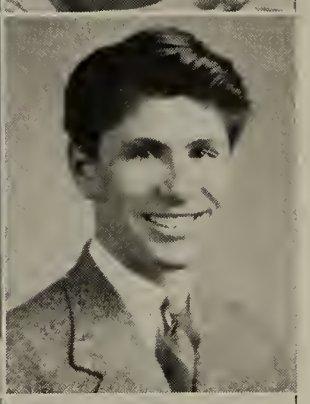
"Lou" enjoys "Bob Hope" and "Kay Kyser" but finds the most delight in chocolate sodas and writing letters to that "certain person." She dislikes conceited people but admits faults of her own — missing busses and talking too long on the telephone. In her sophomore year she was on the Honor Roll. Her ambitions are to visit Hawaii, and to join the "WAVES."



CACACE, VINCENT JOSEPH

Technical Course

"Case" is striving to reach one goal, which is to go out with Hedy Lamarr. He has been in the band in 1, 2, 3. His pet expression is "What's cooking-" Vincent makes sure that he never misses Bob Hope's program. He indulges in that favorite of all hobbies among boys, sports.



CALKINS,, NANCY ANN

Business Course

"Calkin's" favorite expression is, Halt! Look who's here!" "Nance" wants to go to Arizona by way of West Virginia and to own a ranch out there. She likes weekends and writing letters, but dislikes Mr. Hood's comments about the West. Her activities have been connected with Freshman Dance Committee, Sophomore Nominating Committee, Junior class officer, Dramatic Club Treasurer 3, Red Cross Agent 2, Mirror Room Agent 3, 4, bowling 1, 2, Commercial Club 4.

CALLAHAN, JOHN LAWRENCE

Business Course

"Cal", as John likes to be called, would like to achieve the distinction of being an admiral in the Navy. He plans to join this branch of the service when he is graduated from school. "Tiger, get me a devil dog", is his pet expression and Harry James' orchestra is his favorite. Hitting Bob Hathorne is his worst fault, but he makes up for it by letting Bob hit him back.

Class of 1943

CRABTREE, PAULINE MARIE
Stenographic Course
Bob Hope, Harry James, going places and learning to hunt like R. D. appeal to "Paulie". Her ambition is to go to Leland Pamex's school of radio and dramatics. Her favorite expression is "I thought I'd die!" She dislikes conceited people but loves to eat and chew gum. Paulie says sailors fascinate her. Her worst fault is handing dismissal slips to Miss Mooney. Anchors aweigh, "Paulie" to Newport!

CROSIER, WILLIAM WADE
Stenographic Course
Bill, who wants to bomb Tokio, intends to join the Army Air Corps as soon as he can get there. His pet likes are brunettes and a night with no homework, and his pet dislike is lipstick. "Iz zat so?" is Bill's favorite expression.

ANTHONY J. CUGLIETTA

CUSANO, IRENE JOAN
Business Course
"Shorty" wants to grow to the height of five feet three inches. She dislikes to see colors red and green worn together. "Shorty" bemoans the fact that she can't write interesting letters. Her activities include the Commercial Club and reporting for the Waltham High column in the News-Tribune. She wishes to become a good secretary in a well-known firm. She is frequently heard saying "Oh, my goodness!" All her spare time is spent reading funny books — especially Batman. Her favorite dish is a hot fudge sundae.

DARLING, HERBERT E.
"Herbie's" ambition is to join the Army Air Corps and become its youngest general. Here he will probably learn where his feet belong. "How much money have we between us?" asks "Jasper", who, by the way, is always spending money (on whom?) He likes driving the "Mad Wagon" and all radio programs, but dislikes being called a junior. "Herb" was student manager of the Hockey Team 1.

CROCKER, ALBERT JOSEPH
Business Machines
"Pardonnez-moi" (pardon me) can always be heard from Crock. His ambition is to be a pilot and to go to an Aviation Training School. Giving money to John Callahan is Crock's worst fault, and his best virtue is trying to get the money back. "Inner Sanctum" is his favorite radio program. Albert was an agent on the Commercial Club Staff.

CROSS, ELLEN ELIZABETH
Stenographic Course
"Torchy", "Carrots", or "Red", who collects jewelry and buttons, hopes to hold an office position as a stenographer after graduation. She often says "So help me!" or "Are you telling me?" Activities have included field hockey 1; archery 1; and basketball 1, 2. Likes are chocolate marshmallows and those seldom seen steaks. She dislikes snakes. Her favorite program is "Stage Door Canteen" and her worst fault is being slow.

CUNNIFFE, EDWARD A., JR.
Practical Arts Course
Pat has definitely decided to be a bachelor, but will he stick to his decision? He plans to join the Marines after he graduates. He likes music and the "9:20 Club" is his favorite. "I am worried" is his pet expression and getting into trouble is his worst fault.

DACEY, RUTH HELEN
College Course
"That's mine" is the favorite expression of Ruth whose destination is Smith College in order to become a teacher. She has been an honor student '41-44, assembly pianist, and in the orchestra '41-44. Eating is her chief enjoyment, and not liking to do housework her worst fault. She enjoys listening to Fred Allen and playing the piano.

DAVIS, BARBARA LOUISE
"Davey" or "Chatters" or "Barb" wants to be a nurse, or to join the WAVES or the SPARS. A member of the Dramatic Club 2, 3, she collects Navy pins and likes swimming, Harry James, the Navy, and movies. "Are you kidding?" is her most common expression.

Class of 1943

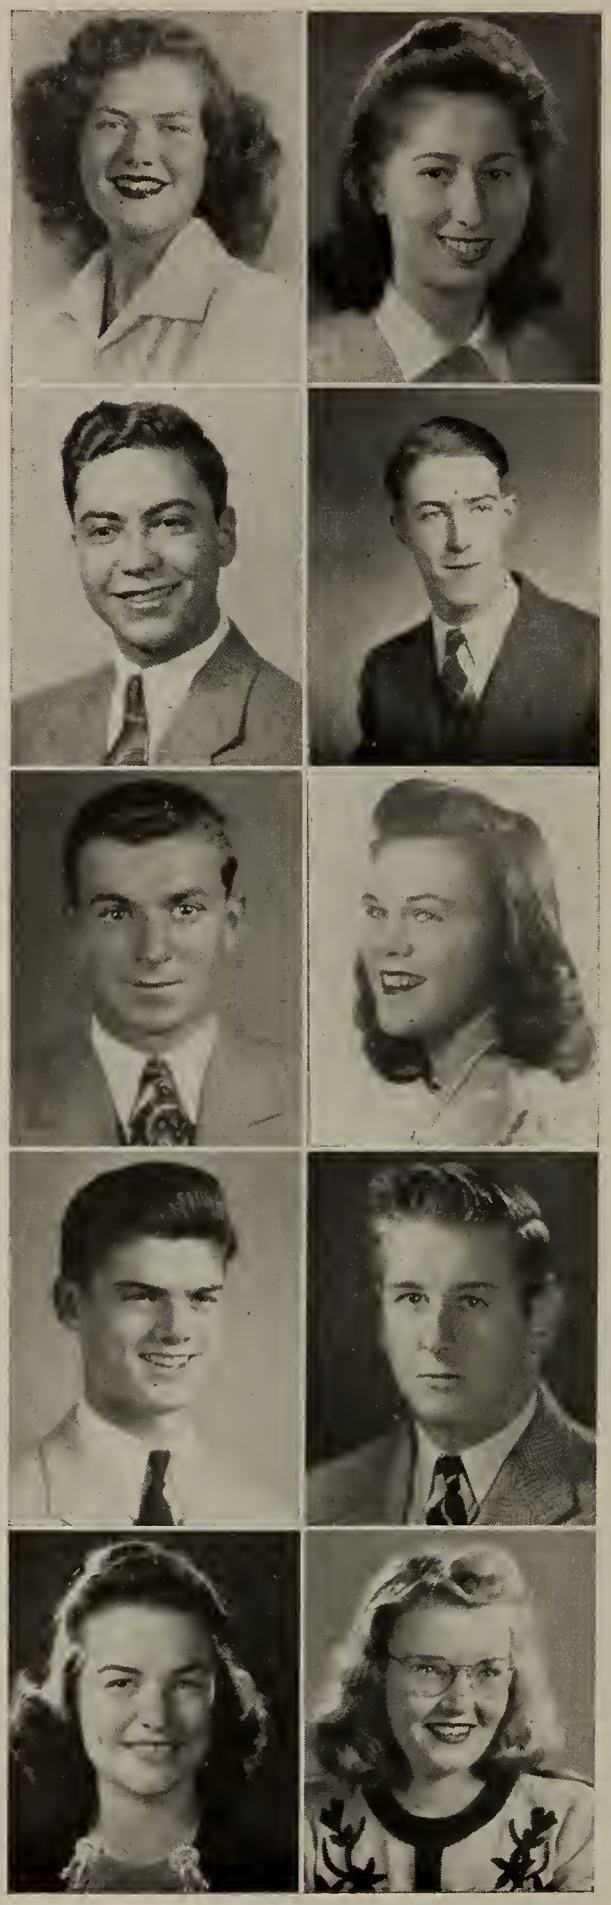
DAVIS, MARCIA JOSEPHINE
College Course
Pretty, peppy "Marsh", active on North Junior Alumni and Sophomore Social Committee, will continue her studies after graduation at the Katherine Gibbs School. As a word to the wise, Marcia sees red over the well-meant question, "Why don't you go out for football?" Her pet delights are cream-covered raspberrics and tall, dark men, and her ambition is a good one for all of us — to be a happy, successful American!

DEMEO, JOSEPH CHARLES
Stenographic Course
Reading is Joe's hobby. He plans to go to Germany by way of Tokyo. In his freshman, sophomore and junior years he was in the band. His expression changes with thoughts of the day. He likes animals, especially dogs and pigeons, mostly all radio music programs. His worst faults are getting into arguments with Gabriel and getting angry easily. Lending money to boys is his best virtue.

DION, ALFRED MAXIME
Civic Course
"Hi, Babe!" If you hear that you can be pretty sure Al is around. After the war, he hopes to become a professional baseball player but until then he'll be a radioman in the navy. "Allie" likes to dance and go to the movies. Also it seems that Miss Rigby's room holds a certain fascination for him. He played basebball '41-42 and was captain of the team. He was also Auditor of the Junior Class on the sophomore, junior, and senior nominating committees, and was a member of the Dramatic Club 1943.

DOUCETTE, WALTER FRANCIS
Busines Machines Course
"Dewey," who collects records, considers buying too many of them his worst fault. He hopes to enter the United States Naval Air Corps as a commissioned officer. Among other things he was Mirror room agent in 1940-1941. "And they hang pictures" is his favorite expression. He considers Bob Crosby's Dixieland Swing" tops and prefers blondes.

DOW, MAUDE ALICE
Practical Arts Course
Known for her famous "Dimples" and "Rowdy Dow", she is continually saying, "Oh, Fiddle Dee Dee". During the war Alice would likc to join the WAFS or be a nurse. Spike Jones and his City Slickers, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Coffee Frappe Floats, and horse-back riding are only a few of her likes She dislikes intensely "Fuddy duddies", mustaches, and conceited people. Her worst fault is laughing.



DELLEPIGNE, ELEANOR MARGARET
Practical Arts Course
Eleanor's ambition is to join the Women's Ferry Command. Her favorite expression is "Well, what do you know?" and her hobby is collecting pictures of orchestra leaders. After graduation Eleanor would like a few weeks' vacation and then to go to work. She likes Glenn Miller and Harry James. Her favorite programs are Bob Hope and the "9:20 Club". Combing her hair in class is her worst fault. She dislikes "catty" conversation.

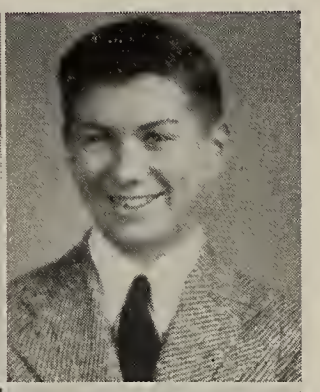
DENEAULT, LOUIS OLIVIER
Civics Course
"Lucky's" ambition is to get into the Navy and fight. Playing with automobile motors is his hobby. His likes are driving a car and girls, but he dislikes working around the house. His worst fault is pushing down on the gas pedal of a car.

DONNELLY, DOROTHY JOANNA
Special Course
Dottie, after school, intends to become a laboratory technician and then to enter the WAVES. Her many activities of the past four years are field hockey 1, 2; basketball, 1; bowling 1; Dramatic Club 2; "Naughty Marietta" Operetta 1; and Mirror Room Agent 2, 3. Her pet expression is "Are you kidding?" but she isn't when she says one of her likes is tall sandy haired boys and the Army Air Corps. Her favorite radio program and orchester leader is Harry James. Her hobby is having a good time.

DOUGLAS, IRVING
Civic Course
"Doug" can often be heard saying "What can you do when your hands are tied?" He likes sports, spending money, sociable girls, Bob Hope, and Truth or Consequences. His pet dislike is unsociable girls; his best virtue is lending money. "Doug" played football 2, and baseball 2, 3 and he plans to become a member of the Army Air Corps.

DRURY, DOROTHY FRANCES
College Course
"What you don't know won't hurt you", says "Dottie" although we don't believe she means it. Wants more than anything to don a white uniform and become a nurse. In due course of time she hopes to be registered. "Dot" likes all sports—especially basketball and baseball—walking, cokes, jute boxes, and hamburgers with onions; dislikes catty girls and eggs of any kind. Stop blushing "Blondie!"

CANNISTRARO, MARIE GERALDINE
Special Course
"Golly I'll say!" exclaims "Cokie" who intends to be a medical technician after finishing Lasell. At present she spends her time buying clothes, collecting pins and rings, and planning for partnership with Jean E. She likes symphonies, tall, intelligent boys, Andre Kostelanetz, skiing, golf and long sweaters, but dislikes conceited people and stupid conversation. "Jam" claims her worst faults are never curling her hair and talking too much. Her activities include Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Mirror Agent, 2; "M" Club, Naughty Marietta, Honor Roll 1, 2, 3.



CARNEY, JOHN ROBERT
Special Course
When "What's the story?" is heard through the halls of old W. H. S. you can be sure that "Johnny" is around. His ambition is to become an aeronautical engineer. Little John's" hobbies are collecting records and hearts. He thinks Bob Hope is just tops and he loves to laugh. Best virtue is waiting for "Ang". Talking too much is his worst fault — but who cares when it is he who is talking?

CARUSO, N. ROBERT
Business Course
"Bob's" hobby is radio work, and he would like to get into office work and work up to a good position. He likes roller skating. His favorite radio program is "The Army Hour."

CASELLA, ANTHONY EDWARD
Business Course
"Tony" has an idea he would like to be a bookkeeper and work in a big business office. "Don't be funny" is his favorite expression. His favorite pastime is tuning in the "9:20 Club.

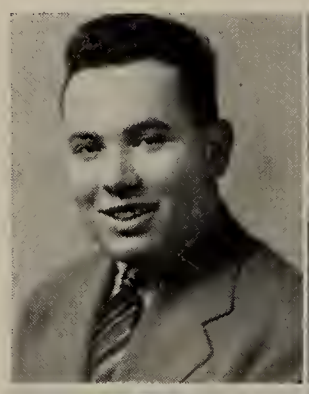
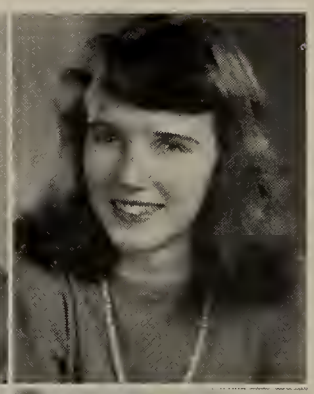
ROBINSON, DONALD SUMNER
Technical Course
"Shoot him again, he's still kicking!" is "Slim's" unusual saying which probably refers to those little yellow men, because his ambition is to knock of Tojo's glasses. He says his hobby is railroading. Fibber McGee and Molly are his favorite radio characters and his activities include the Dramatic Club. After the Army "Crisco" expects to go to Northeastern. Although he dislikes pencil-borrowers his best virtue is loaning pencils anyhow.

Class of 1943

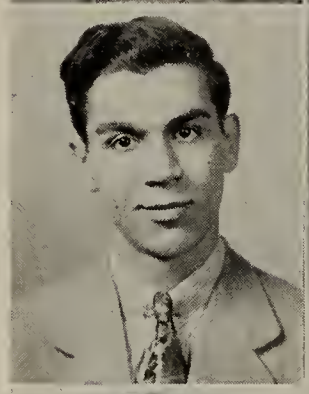
ROMOTSKY, MAXWELL
Business Course
"Slapsy" is in the business course and is headed toward the position of Certified Public Accountant. He says "It's the Navy for me". "Could be", is his pet expression and talking too much, his worst fault. He collects stamps as a hobby and his favorite radio program is Eddie Cantor. He is a member of the Commercial Club. His best subject is history, but he says he dislikes most teachers.

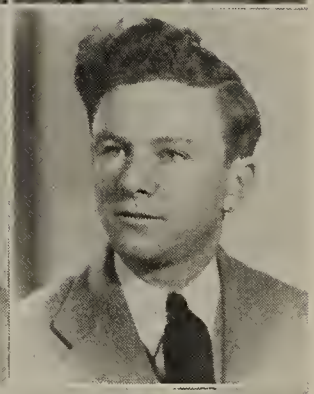




ROWE, GLENYS FRANCES
Business Course
"Glen" wants to travel around the world and work as a secretary. "Criminey" is her favorite expression. Her hobby is eating lunch with Pat. She was on the Sophomore Social Committee and was a member of the Dramatic and Commercial Clubs. Glen likes driving at night, Harry James and the radio program "Counter Spy". She dislikes people who think they are better than others. Her worst fault is jumping at conclusions, but she always keeps her temper, which is her best virtue.

RUSSO, THOMAS JAMES
Practical Arts Course
"Gondigo Don Juan Sebastian Deizi Chequelo", as our friend Tommy is called, is a serious young fellow who particularly enjoys ballroom dancing. Tommy, like most young fellows, wants to go into the service of his country; in fact, he wants to become an officer in the U. S. Naval Air Corps. He was a member of the Dramatic Club, and his goal in life is to dance as well as our movie friend, Caesar Romero.



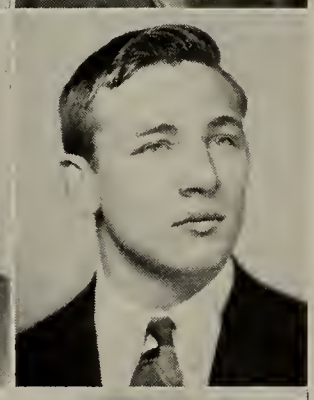


SALAMORE, MARIANO RAYMOND
Civics Course
"Nunu's" ambition is to tour the United States and beat Lally in a game of golf. He likes potato chips and apple pie with ice cream and his hobby is bicycle riding. He is a member of the Dramatic Club and often uses his favorite expression "hit the road" and "don't buzz the ear."

SCAMMAN, PHYLLIS MARION
Business Course
"Phil's" pet expressions are "Oh, Brother", and "Are you kidding?" Her ambition is to do something she likes, and to keep her present office position. Her hobby is watching the Fords go by. "Phil" likes "The Great Gildersleeve", chocolate sodas, and potato chips, but dislikes conceited people. Her best virtue is being on time. Activities include varsity basketball team '41-42, volleyball and bowling '41-42.

SCHEBECI, GERARD ANTHONY
Business Course
"Gerry" is intrested in football and his ambition is to be a coach after the war, but meanwhile he expects to join the Marine Corps in which he wants to make a career and to become an officer. Bob Hope and girls are tops on Gerry's list of favorites. He dislikes office methods and is often heard saying, "Aren't we all!".

SCHOFIELD, RUTH ALICE
Special Course
"Ruthie", or "Sco", who often says, "Oh, dear!" expects to enter a medical school but her ambition is to own a farm in New Hampshire. Activities during High School included bowling 3; Dramatic Club 2; and Honor Roll 2. Her hobby is collecting novelty pins. She likes golf, tennis, "Hour of Charm", and the color red, but dislikes those who find fault with others. Her virtue is promptness and her worst faults are shyness and blushing.



SEGIEN, RICHARD ERNEST
Practical Arts Course
"Butch", "Dick", or "Knucklehead's" favorite expression is "Why, hello there!" His ambition is to become a mechanical engineer. "Butch" makes a hobby of sleeping — which we can all understand. He has been active in the Junior Prom Committee, and as chairman of the Senior Dance. His sports include football 1, 2, 3; and track 1, 2. He has a bad habit of talking aloud, and his best virtue, he claims, is arguing with girls. Believe it or not, he likes semi-classical music. His destination is the Naval Air Corps where he expects to become a 2nd lieutenant. Why stop there, Dick?

SERVAL, JOSEPHINE MARIE
Business Course
When you hear "Why?" or "What's the latest dirt?" that's "Jo" getting all the gossip. Her ambition is to teach a certain person to do the rumba. She likes eating ice cream (fattening isn't it, Jo?), dancing, to do the talking, Harry James and the "9:20 Club." She hopes to become a singer or an aviatrix. She dislikes stubborn and conceited people. Her best virtue is saying "yes", but she's never on time. Honor Roll 3, 4.

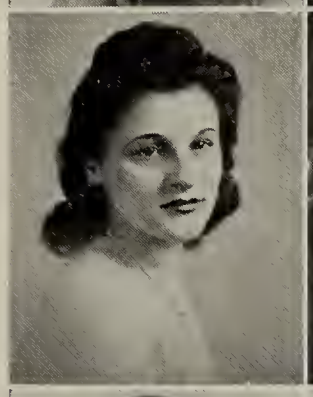
SHARP, DOROTHY
Special Course
"Dot" or "Sharpie" with her favorite expressions, "Wait a minute, Alice", and "Do you think so?" is hoping to travel and to sing with a big-name band somewhere in California. She has been active on the Executive Committee of the Dramatic Club '39-40, and on the Sophomore Social Committee '41, Honor Roll '41. She likes the Navy and sundaes, but dislikes gas rationing. Although she is always late, she is patient and good-natured.

Class of 1943

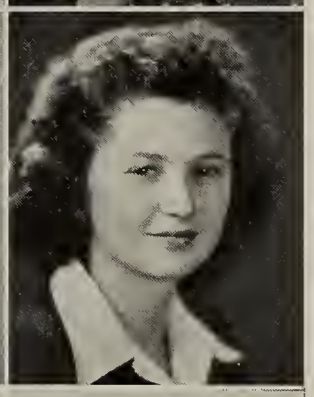
SHEA, JAMES JOSEPH
Technical Course
"Jimmy's" ambition is to become an electrical engineer so he hopes to go to Northeastern if the army doesn't catch up with him. He likes to eat and he intensely dislikes dizzy blondes. His favorite radio program is "Fibber McGee and Molly", his best virtue is being on time, his hobby is music, and his activities include being a member of the Radio Class 1943.

SHEDD, ROBERT B.
Business Course
"Bob" wants to fly! He's left school to join the Army Air Forces. Good luck! While in school he was on the Honor Roll all four years. He was on the advertising staff of the Mirror 1940-41 and a member of the Commercial Club in his senior year. Bob likes all sports and his favorite hobby is scouting in which he was acting scoutmaster for a while. He dislikes people who are conceited and girls who try too hard to impress you. He likes people who admit their faults. Happy landings, Bob!

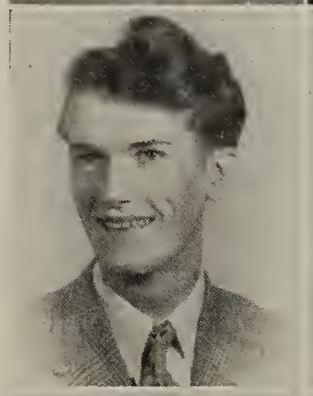
SOTTILE, PHYLLIS ANNE
Business-Accounting Course
"Phyl" isn't quite sure what she's going to do after high school but her ambition is to grow two or three inches. For a hobby, "Phillie" corresponds, and collects snapshots. Her pet like is "that certain person". She dislikes to wait for people. Her best virtue is being happy, and her special mannerism is snapping gum. Activities include Commercial Club.



SPICER, MARGARET RUTH
Practical Arts Course
"Spice" dislikes conceited people and is often heard saying, "Oh! stop it." Her ambition is to travel and to become a dentist's assistant. The "9:20 Club" and hot fudge sundaes are tops with her while making faces is her worst fault. A few of her activities are being Secretary- Treasurer of the Senior Class, on Senior Nominating Committee, on Senior Dance Committee, and on the Sophomore Nominating Committee.

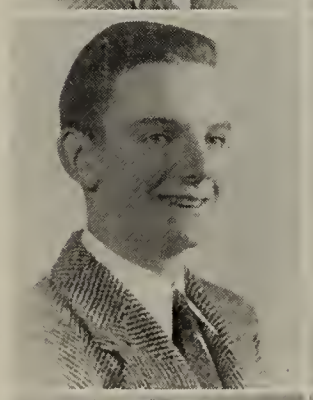


STANTON, RICHARD EDWARD
Business Course
Dick says that his ambition is to be an accountant after he has taken some advanced training. His hobby is collecting miniature animals, and he likes taking walks with "Bobby". Dick says that some day he would like to be a baseball star.



STEARNS, HOPE CAROLYN
College Course
"Sunny" expects to attend Middlebury or Jackson, join the WAVES where her favorite expression "Pass me the butter" might be fulfilled. Her ambition is to waltz in Vienna in a crystal blue chiffon gown. She dislikes rainy camping trips and the nickname "Muscles", but fried clams and Sunday symphonies are her specialty. Sunny's faults, which are few, are using too much lipstick and sneezing. Best virtue, trying to get "A" in chemistry. Activities: Music Editor of Mirror '42-43; Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Dramatc Club (plays) 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 2, 3.

STEEDE, JOSEPH THOMAS
College Course
"Joe", or "Scruffer's" favorite expressions are, "That ain't bad", and, "Get off my ear". His destination is to enter college and his hobby is making money. His pet likes are sports, vacations, money, and sleeping, and his dislikes over-confident people. His ambition is to enter the Army Air Corps and his favorite programs are Bob Hope, "9:20 Club", and Fred Allen. His best virtue is keeping sober and his worst fault is spending money. "Scruffer" has been active in basketball team 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; and wrestling team 1, 2, 3.

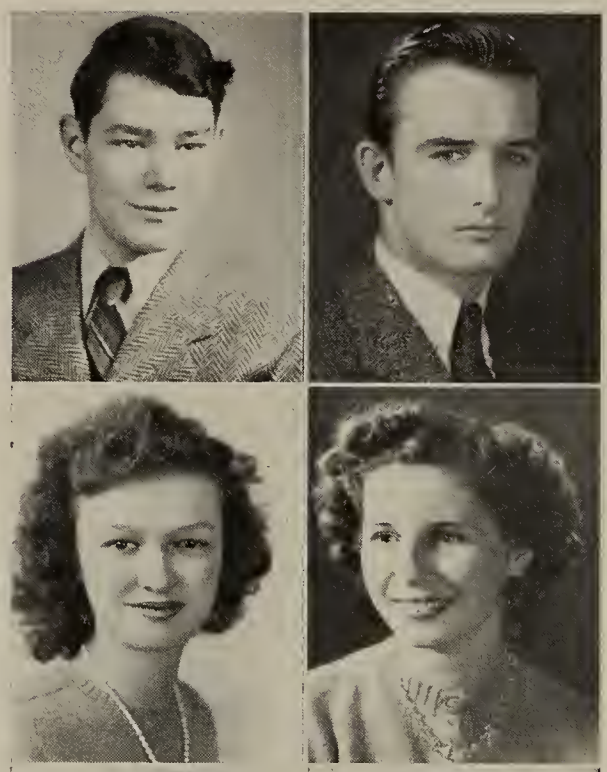


STEWART, EVELYN MAUDE
Practical Arts Course
"Eve" or "Evy", with her "golly", "sugar", or "you're not kidding", wants to travel and make someone happy, collecting movie stubs on the way. After she gets a good job, she will eat many a dish of fried clams, chop suey, or liver. Later she will marry. She likes the "9:20 Club", "Truth or Consequences", and Harry James.

STUMPF, SHIRLEY E.
Business Course
"Stumpy" wants to be a WAVE and take a nice long trip with someone. "Sorry" is her favorite expression. She's always trying to keep Pearson out of trouble. Shirley has been a busy girl. Her activities are: Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; archery 1, bowling 1, Drum Major 1, 2, 3; and a member of the Commercial Club. She likes hot fudge sundaes with all the "fixin's", and Harry James and Bob Hope. She doesn't like to do homework, although she always does it. Her worst fault is not answering people.

SUPERIOR, ELIZABETH C.
Practical Arts Course
"Soupy's" favorite expression is "Listen, son". She would like very much to become an airplane hostess, but will settle for the WAACS. "Lizzy" collects toy dogs, likes dancing to Harry James' orchestra, and sodas. While she dislikes waiting for anyone, she frequently keeps others waiting for her. But her best virtue makes up for this — she'll do almost anything for a friend.

Class of 1943



TANKEL, CHARLES EDWARD
College Course
"Chuck's" hobby is playing the violin and collecting classical records. His ambition is to be a music critic and to attend the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He often says "What's the story?" His favorite radio program is "New York Philharmonic". Likes ball sessions with Hill, but dislikes silly girls. Best virtue is his cheerfulness. Activities include Co-music Editor of the Mirror '42-43; American History Medal 1942; Dramatic Club '42-43; and member of orchestra '42-43.

THOMAS, THELMA MARY
Stenographic Course
"Thal" wants to be successful in a good business position. "Are you kidding?" and "Don't be foolish" are her favorite expressions. She loves Johnson's chocolate frappes, Glenn Miller, dancing and Red Skelton but hates to get up in the morning. Her worst fault is going to bed late and always day dreaming. She'd like to see the world but not on the globe.

TURNER, JOAN ELIZABETH
College Course
"Jo" is going to Sing Sing for a music degree. Activities include Humor Editor of Mirror 2, 3; Junior and Senior Nominating Committees; orchestra 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2, 3; Class Prophecy 3; Honor Roll 1. "Jay's" favorite expression is "Because I'm bashful". She collects records and consumes food for hobbies. She likes music and pre-war driving. She dislikes washing dishes and her worst faults are punning and spending everybody's money. She has a very good disposition and her special mannerism is being "lucky".

VANARIA, ANTHONY JOHN
Practical Arts Course
"Tony's" ambition is to become a successful commercial artist, although his hobby is taking and showing movies. His pet expression is "I'll bet! Ah, yes!" He likes drawing people's faces, to dance, and to listen to good music, including Jack Benny's program. Good humor will help him in getting what he is working for — graduation from The New England School of Art. Tony was Art Editor of the Mirror 3, 4; on the Mirror Staff 2, 3, 4; and in the Dramatic Club.

VINCENT, WILLIAM CLIFFORD
Business Course
Civics Course
"Bill", or "Willy", or "Vinny" expects to join the Navy where we hope he will get the ice cream he likes and won't have to wash dishes. He likes Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, and Paul Gallagher's candy.

TAYLOR, W. ROYCE
Technical Course
Marine Aviation Corp and then Engineering School is the destination of "Roscoe" who has been very active in football '41-42-43; baseball '42-43; hockey '43, Sophomore Social Committee, and Senior Nominating Committee (chairman). "Come on a little jinnegar", is the favorite expression of this Tech fellow whose worst fault is being late and not doing his homework and whose best virtue is tolerating "Stretch" Martin. He regards with aversion corny jokes, but likes sports, women, and cokes.

THOMPSON, ELIZABETH
Business Course
Betty Thompson, a member of the Commercial Club 1942-43, has for an ambition a secretarial position in an office. Her favorite expressions are "Really" and "Are you kidding?" She likes cokes, gum, the Navy, and dancing and dislikes people who do not keep their promises. Her favorite radio program is Harry James and, although we don't know her best virtue, her worst fault is not being on time.

VAHEY, ALICE FRANCES
Special Course
"Allie" likes Harry James, Red Skelton and Bob Hope. She especially dislikes conduct marks. Her ambition is to go to Florida. Her hobby is photography. She is on the Junior Prom Committee.

VELARDO, VIRGINIA GILDA
Business Course
"Ginny's ambition is to be an opera singer. She hopes to obtain an office position and continue her vocal lessons. "Ginger's" hobby is reading and dancing, and the Navy. Her best virtue is her good disposition; her worst fault is blushing. She has been a Drum Majorette for Waltham High School from 1939-1943.

VINCELLO, ANNA MARIE
College Course
Annie's ambition is to get to college. Her favorite expression is, "Holy Crow", and her hobby is making "Jo" laugh in Lab. She likes ice cream sodas, clothes, and music; dislikes going to bed at night and homework. Her favorite radio program is "Red Skelton". Her best virtue is being good-natured and her worst fault is being modest.

Class of 1943

VINCI, JAMES

Smiling Jim did not stay long with us this year. Uncle Sam had a greater need for him than we did, so he left in the middle of the year. His interests in the line of sports will probably prove handy during the stiff training period he is going through!

WAGNER, RUTH C.

College Course

"Wag's" hobby is pitcher-collecting. Her ambition is to go up in an airplane and her destination is college. She likes juicy steaks and dislikes onions. Her favorite radio programs are "Hit Parade" and "Lux Theatre". Her favorite expression is "Oh, go on!" She has been active as Exchange Editor of the Mirror, 42-43, on Sophomore Social, Junior Prom, and Senior Dance Committee, and in bowling 1, 2, 3.

WALKER, EMILY MARGARET

Practical Arts Course

Collecting snapshots and phonograph records are "Em's" hobbies and "Are you kiddin'?" and "Yeah", her pet expressions. Her ambition is to travel, but she expects to do some sort of defense work after graduation. Her likes include hot fudge sundaes, sports, dancing, "9:20 Club", the "Great Gildersleeve", and the "Lux Radio Theatre". Her dislikes are homework, gym, and showers. Her worst fault is being late for school and her best virtue is laughing things off.

WASHBURN, PAUL S.

Business, Stenographic Course

After leaving school "Washy" plans to join some branch of the service and become a pilot. In due course of time he expects to become a business executive. Paul tells us he dislikes operas and the color pink (how about it, Betty?) His activities include being president of Senior Class, Sophomore Secretary and Treasurer, also member of Junior Prom and Senior Dance Committees. Favorite expression: "Are you kidding?" Happy landings, Paul!

WEATHERBEE, CATHERINE BERNIECE

Business Course

"Kay" expects to work in a business office and later in a large insurance firm. Her hobby is vacationing in Nova Scotia. She loves to listen to hair-raising radio programs and dislikes cocoanut candy and snobs. Her worst fault is losing her temper (and how). She's crazy about apple pie and ice cream and is often heard saying, "Hmmm, hello"! Activities include: varsity basketball '42, field hockey '41-42, bowling, baseball, archery, and volley ball.

von ROMATOWSKI MARGOT

Margot, whose hobbies are piano playing and fashion designing, wants to join some women's defense force, but she expects to go to a school for interior decorators or fashion designers. She likes dancing, movies, clothes, Bob Hope, Hit Parade, and Lights Out. Her worst fault is taking everything to heart. She dislikes people who pronounce the t in Margot, and those who are not punctual.

WALDRON, FRANCIS MICHAEL

College Course

Francis's activities include Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; and baseball 1. "Rock's" most common expression is "say, that ain't bad". His ambition is to get married and to go around the world in a two-man submarine. Wheaties, Pepsi-cola and the Lone Ranger rank high among Rock's favorites. Hockey is his best sport and playing pool his hobby. His pet dislike is owing money to Sonny.

WALSH, WILLIAM DAVID

Business Course

To become an aviator or to join the Marine Corps is Bill's ambition but just now he spends his spare time studying guns and making plane models. He was on the Senior Nominating Committee. Mystery programs, such as "Inner Sanctum", sports, and good sportsmanship are among his favorites. He admits that his worst fault is forgetting to do his homework.

WEAGLE, CLAIRE TERESA

Business Course

"Really" and "Call me tonight" can often be heard from "Wiggy". She'd like to go to the World's Fair and be a success in whatever she does. Her hobbies are dancing, swimming, and listening to the 9:20 Club". Her activities include basketball 1, 2, 3; hockey 1, 2, 3; volley ball 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; and Commercial Club. Always being late is her worst fault and holding her temper is her best virtue. She likes the Army, "Sammy Kaye", and "Inner Sanctum" but does not like Monday mornings.

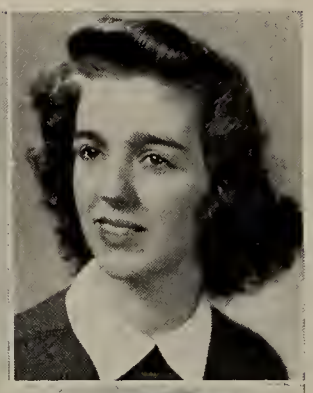
WELLINGTON, VIRGINIA RUTH

College Course

"Ginny" wants to be a success. At what "Gin?" She enjoys reading, skating, swimming, baseball games, and sleeping, but dislikes carrying books. Her destination is college and she'll be sure to make her nine o'clock classes on time because her best virtue is being prompt. Some of "Ginzo's" activities include archery 1, baseball 2, and badminton 3.

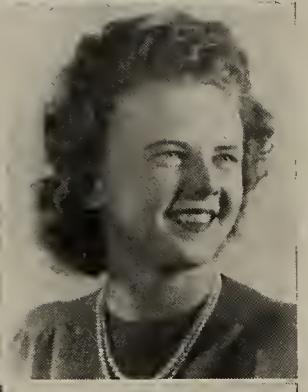
Class of 1943

WHALEN, MARY ANNE
Business Machines Course
"Suzy's" ambition is to be a Navy War Nurse; her hobby, "keeping up with the Joneses"; her favorite expression, "Yes, dear"; her best virtue wanting to help others; and her pet like, going out with J. J. She dislikes being bossed by ? ? Her worst fault is day dreaming. Her favorite radio programs are Vaughan Monroe and Harry James. Activities include Nominating Committee, '40-41 and Junior Dance Committee, '41-42.



WIGGIN, EVELYN MARY
Stenographic Course
"Wiggie's" favorite expression is "Wanna know somethin'?" and her hobby is collecting knick-knacks and phonograph records. "Ev's" ambition is to travel to California and to be a success. Her favorite program is "Those We Love" and Kay Kyser's program. She also likes Glenn Miller's music and dislikes waiting for people. Her worst fault is talking too long on the 'phone. "Evie" was a member of the Dramatic Club '41.

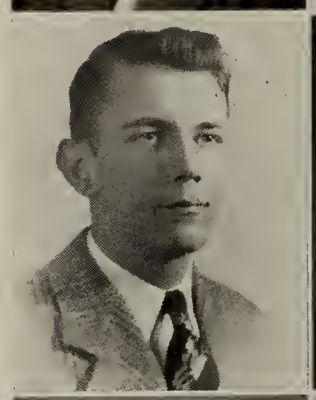
WILLIAMS, OLIVE FRANCES
Business-Accounting Course
"Ollie" hopes some day to become an accountant and to travel. Her favorite expression is "Ye Gods!" Her hobby is sports of all kinds. Ollie's activities include field hockey, basketball, baseball, and Commercial Club. She dislikes the color purple and "sissy" boys, but she loves to eat. Ollie says she's too quiet, but her best virtue is her ability to keep smiling, so let's hope she "Keeps 'em flying", too.



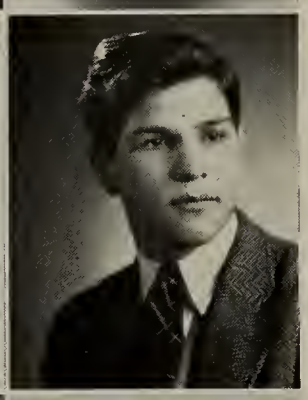
WINBERG, BETTY JANE
Stenographic Course
"Bee Jay" wants to be an efficient stenographer. Her hobbies include figure skating, swimming and horseback riding. She was a Mirror room agent and on the Dramatic Club 1, 2. B. J. likes new clothes, Brigham's sundaes and the Navy. She dislikes smart show-offs. Her favorite radio program is Bob Hope.

WINSLOW, VIRGINIA ELLA
College Course
One may often hear "Tiny" saying "Now, how about me?" To go to teachers' college is "Ginny's destination and to become a teacher her ambition. English, movies, and writing compositions are her likes, but getting below "C" level and glamour girls are her dislikes. "Ginny's" worst fault is biting her fingernails and her best virtue is getting things done and being punctual. Activities include chairman of Literary Staff.

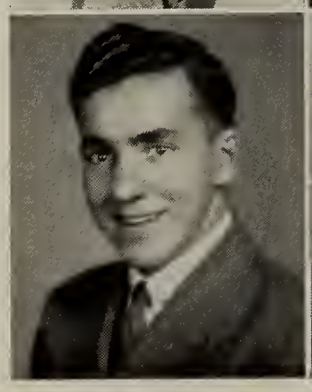
WOOD, MARILYNNE VELDA
Business Course
"Woodie's" ambition is to become a very successful woman. She may not be financially successful right now but she is certainly patriotic, as evidenced by her frequent letters to Uncle Sam's boys and her desire to help out in war work. She likes to go out nights, but dislikes snobbish people and people who are late. Her worst fault is sulking, and her best virtue is keeping promises.



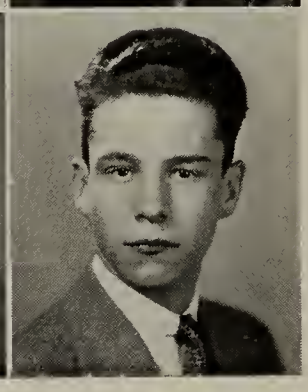
WORRELL, GEORGE RICHARD
Technical Course
"Fiery redheads, hot butterscotch sundaes, Harry James, and all sports, are my pet likes", declares "Shorty", who has been an honor student in the "Tech" course from 1940-1943. Bashfulness is Dick's worst virtue which is hidden behind his 6 foot 3 inch frame, but this still doesn't prevent his getting on the Varsity Basketball team '42-43, playing ping pong and golf, or his determination to play for the Shapers' Basketball Club. He intends to attend M. I. T. or Draftee College.



ZACAME, BERNARD ANTHONY
Business Course
"Porky" plays the piano accordion and his ambition is to be a musician. His pet expression is "Are you kidding?" He would like to enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps. His favorite sport is baseball and he likes to listen to the "9:20 Club".



ZAIA, ANTHONY LEWIS
Business Course
After joining the army and freeing the world, Tony would like to become a success in business life. "Ya don't say", exclaimes Tony, while scratching his head. He likes a big dish of Italian Spaghetti and a certain girl, but drawn out literature bores him extremely. Tony is always polite to older people but considers his worst fault, insulting people when joking. Truth or Consequences and Your Hit Parade are his favorite programs. He belongs to the Commercial Club.



ZWICKER, BASIL MERVYN
Business Course
"Bud" Zwicker, soon to be representing us in the armed forces, has the usual masculine love for sports of all kinds. His pet dislike? Well, homework tops them all with "Bud". He likes the radio, particularly "Inner Sanctum Mysteries" and "Lux Radio Theatre". Chief among his ambitions is to become a business executive in the post-war world. — Lots of luck, Bud!

Class of 1943

WEBB, PRISCILLA
College Course
"Hi, Jeanne" is "Dilly's" favorite phrase. She likes Marines, movies, swimming, and skating, but dislikes carrying trays up from the cafeteria. Her hobby is photography and crocheting hankies, and her favorite radio program is "Truth or Consequences". Although "Dilly's" ambition is to become a registered nurse at the Cambridge Hospital, she would also like to become an air hostess. Her best virtue is patience, and her worst fault, day dreaming.

MALLOY, EDWARD CHARLES
Accounting Course
Eddie is another lad whose burning ambition is to help defeat the Axis. He wants to join the Navy or else get a defense job. His hobby is playing the trumpet. He likes chocolate cake and Bob Hope, but dislikes homework and girls who talk too much. His best virtue is his good disposition.

COCCO, ANNA MARIE
Business Course
Reading good books is Ann's favorite pastime. Her pet expression is "Gee whiz". Although her destination is to work in an office, she hopes some day to take a trip around the world. She often listens to the "9:20 Club" and enjoys music, dancing, and bowling. Snobbish and conceited people annoy her, and, although her worst fault is day dreaming, she is always on time.

DION, MARIE VICTORIA
Shorty, vice president of the Dramatic Club for 1942-1943 and cheerleader 1940-1943, plans to enter the Massachusetts General Hospital. To always do exciting things by travelling and nursing is her ambition; acting, and kissing her cat are hobbies. Shorty loves life and most everything in it, was sophomore auditor, and had a part in all sports except this year. She thinks she talks and daydreams too much. Worst fault is her temper with Y. A. and J. T.

FIORELLI, CLARA E.
Business Course
"Fifi" has the ambition of being an office worker but after she graduates she wants to travel and attend college or business school. She likes good novels, Harry James, and going to the Totem Pole, but dislikes being interrupted and conceited people. Her favorite radio programs are Bob Hope and Inner Sanctum. "Fi's" best virtue is willingness and her worst fault is doing things at the last minute. She belongs to the Commercial Club.

MOSHER, DOROTHY
Stenographic Course
"Dot" plans to go to night school and really work hard to obtain the knwledge necessary to become a successful business woman. She also would like to travel around the country and see all the historical places. She formerly attended North Quincy High School and has been on the honor roll in that school. Bing Crosby holds attraction for her as does the "army." She loves delicious lemon cokes and her worst fault is arguing.

MAY, MARGARET
Business Course
"Chickie" who often asks "Where are we going?" hopes to enter a business office after graduation and to be a success in life. She has been a Commercial Club member. Her hobby is writing letters. Among her likes are cokes, gum, Harry James' orchestra, dancing, and the army; while she does not like disagreeable people. (Can we blame her?) Her worst fault is chewing gum.

LEMBO, JOSEPHINE ANN
Practical Arts Course
"Jo", a member of the Dramatic Club, '42, '43, wishes to travel to California, then join the SPARS. She likes to go to movies, to read good books, and to sing. Her worst fault is fooling too much. She spends much of her time in keeping her hands and nails well-manicured. "Hi, chicken," "what's cookin'?" are her favorite expressions, and "The Craft Music Hall' with Bing Crosby is first in her radio favorites.

Class of 1943

BAHROS, WILLIAM JOHN
Business Accounting Course
Bill's favorite expression is "What can you do?" His ambition is to be a farmer or an accountant and his destination is a good Agricultural College

BOSTON, HAZEL JANE
Practical Arts Course
"Boston" wishes to be a reporter and to travel. A member of the Dramatic Club, 2, 3, she likes books and movies, as well as collecting pictures of movie stars and listening to Kay Kyser.

CHUTE, LILLIAN PEARL
Business Course
"Lil" or "Blinky" is always saying, "Oh, for heaven's sake." Her favorite program is the "9:20 Club" for she just loves to dance. She collects perfume as a hobby. After leaving school she will enter a defense plant but her great ambition is to travel. Fish and conceited people are among her dislikes. Her best virtue is being on time, but beware — she is hard to get along with at times.

FARESE, PHILOMENA F.
Business Course
"Phil" wishes to go to art school, with plenty of time for her hobby, classical music. She likes to listen to the "Scandinavian Program". Her favorite expression is a very simple "Oh, gee"!

FREY, HELMUT WILLIAM
Practical Arts Course
"Fuzy" is rather a modest fellow and doesn't tell us much about himself except that Bob Hope's program and hunting are his favorite interests. H has not stated what his destination will be, but whatever it is we are sure that he will do his best to make good at it.

GORANSON, FREDERICK A.
Business Accounting Course
'Trapper's" main ambition is to be happy without money. A lumber camp, the U. S. Army, and Alaska are his destinations. "Mad-Hunter" likes the out-of-doors and his hobby is hunting, camping, etc. His pet dislikes are cities, flashy dresses, teachers. His favorite radio program is "Death Valley Days". Activities include Commercial Club 3.

ISSACSON, LILLIAN IRENE
Practical Arts Course
"Lill has writing letters as her hobby. She hopes to get a job after leaving school. Her best program is "Dr. Christian". Forgetting things is her very worst fault.

KENNESON, DONALD K.
Practical Arts Course
"Don" likes to be alone and his worst fault is keeping his mouth closed. His hobbies are woodcarving and drawing. His ambition is to be a commercial artist.

LIUZZO, ANTHONY B.
Business Course
Anthony's ambition is to become highly specialized in the field of mechanics. He hopes to join the Army Air Corps but now he spends his spare time building model airplanes.

LIUZZO, THOMAS JOSEPH
Business Machines Course
Believe it or not Tom's hobby is working — but not doing school work, for one of his chief dislikes is homework! He expects to "visit" some army camp in the near future, preferably Camp Edwards. He likes peanuts and Bob Hope. The chief trouble he has is doing something wrong and getting caught.

PERKINS, A. WARREN
College Course
"Perkie" believes that Uncle Sam will probably decide his destination for him! He hopes to become an engineer. He likes music, especially classical, tennis, golf, and football. His hobby is photography and he puts it to good advantage by being Mirror Staff Photographer. He doesn't dare mention his worst faults.

SHARP, DOROTHY Y.
Special Course
Dot's ambition is to sing with an orchestra, to visit California, and then go around the world. She is often heard saying "Holy Cow," "On you that looks good!" Her activities are being on the executive committee of the Dramatic Club on the Sophomore Social Committee, and in the Glee Club. She dislikes having someone use incorrect English, but likes hot fudge sundaes, the Navy, and driving. Worst fault is being late; her best virtue is a good disposition. Red Skelton tops her radio programs.

Class History

GREAT events of world-wide importance and far-reaching global effect were taking place as the class of 1943 entered Waltham High School as sophomores. That they would vitally influence our high school career and curriculum was the farthest thought from our mind on that memorable day as we found ourselves lost in a maze of corridors and struggling to overcome the predominance of the upper classmen.

HARRIET MARY BRUYA
Writer of Class History

Gradually we accustomed ourselves to the situation, however, and soon our feet were on the ground and our minds on our books. Our first test of responsibility was in electing class officers, with the following results: John Joyce, president; Marie Dion, auditor; Norman Belliveau, vice-president; and Paul Washburn, secretary-treasurer.

Although the High School was a fascinating place to us, we appreciated our Christmas vacation. After the holidays were over, we reverted our busy minds to thoughts of our own affair, the Sophomore Social. This was capably managed by Dick Blanchard, and as everyone turned out for this gala occasion, it was a success. For the rest of the term we continued to work and toil toward the goal of promotion.

Upon becoming juniors we realized that life was not quite so lowly, that our teachers were really human, and that the Waltham High School was not such a massive place after all. We discovered a new aspect of life and prepared ourselves for a long and tedious year by electing new class officers, who were Charles Butler, president; Nancy Calkins, vice-president; Jeanne Franks, secretary-treasurer; and Marie Dion, auditor. School activities became more interesting, and many of us took a prominent part in the Dramatic Club, competitive sports, and dance committees. During our second year we found out what real work and study were; and it took quite a bit of endurance to keep from suffering complete disillusionment.

The Junior Prom was a pleasant and welcome diversion, with Freeman Murphy as its chairman, assisted by a capable committee. This was our first formal affair, and for many of us it was one that will long be remembered. The long-awaited month of June finally presented itself, and the following summer vacation was filled with the anticipation of becoming seniors.

At last we reached the climax of our high school career. Little did we realize at the beginning of the term how quickly it would pass. We bought our weekly share of war savings stamps and read about Midway and Guadalcanal in the newspapers — but the outset of the second year of the war had even a more direct influence over the pupils of our high school. In the Assembly Hall on that first day of school, many of the boys who had been juniors were noticeably absent.

The question of whether schoolboy football games would be able to continue set everyone's nerves on edge, for what would our school life be without football and its heroes? Transportation was the chief worry, but it was readily solved by using private cars or taxis to carry the team to inter-city games. We were all relieved that football was destined to remain as king of sports for at least one more autumn season.

Seniors Richard Segien, Charlie McCarthy, Stanley Kakis, and Royce Taylor did some outstanding playing on the gridiron. Dick Reed suffered a bitter disappointment by seriously injuring a leg in his first game, in which he played center, so he was unable to continue in the sport for the rest of the year. Although our record was merely average over the course of the more-than-difficult schedule, our sparkling right end, Captain Johnny Furdon, was rewarded with All-Scholastic mention by many of the Boston papers.

Those holding positions in the Senior Administrative Board, and therefore our permanent officers are Paul Washburn, president; Shirley Gray, vice-president; Ruth Spicer, secretary-treasurer; and Bert Powers, auditor. The Senior Nominating Committee consisted of Royce Taylor, Patricia Forster, Irene Joyal, Al Dion, Joan Turner, Mary McKinnon, William Walsh, George Anderson, and Harriet Bruya.

Our Senior Dance also was affected by the conditions of the period. The shortage of local manpower, together with the everlasting transportation problem, caused much apprehension on the part of the committee. Because of a new fire prevention law we were deprived of any decorations whatsoever. Richard Segien, who was chairman, and his fellow workers overcame all obstacles and succeeded in sponsoring a very enjoyable affair.

At the half year we felt more changes. This time it was in our curriculum. The study of mathematics was built up in every course. Mechanics was stressed in the study of physics. All English classes had general discussions on current events so the pupils could have a better knowledge of what we are fighting for. Both the girls and the boys relinquished their study periods for extra gymnasium classes. The boys' instruction developed so well that it adopted the appropriate name of "Commando" training.

Several after-school classes were added for those who wished specialized courses. Many boys enrolled in pre-flight aeronautics, which met twice a week. Mr. Hollis's curriculum for the subject included the construction, maneuvering, and operation of a plane. A course in the study of radio also interested a number of boys, Mr. Hollis handling this progressive work in addition to his many other duties. The members listened to records made in code and copied down messages in longhand as one part of their work.

Because of the demand for more practical arts, cafeteria classes were held to teach the girls more about Victory foods and how to cook in quantity. Surgical dressing groups were conducted after school where the members rolled bandages as an aid to Red Cross work. The Practical Arts course stressed more general nursing and homemaking. Many pupils were already involved in volunteer Red Cross service throughout the year. Yes, every member of Waltham High School pulled together to be able to face better what was ahead.

Although boys were leaving nearly every day to enter the armed services, some still remained to carry on capably our hockey and basketball teams. With Joe Madden as captain on the ice the team got off to a beautiful start. As it seems to be Waltham's tradition, after a few winning games, our team slowed down a bit. Near the close of the season, however, the boys picked up considerably until they achieved fourth place in the league standing and took part in the playoffs.

Our basketball team of 1943 was a valiant one. In the middle of the season it had to adjust iteslf after the loss of its starring captain, Connie Erickson, who enlisted for service with the greatest team of all, that of the U. S. Navy. A little later Bob Dorval duplicated this noteworthy act, but our basketball boys persisted, and in the final game of the season, they won a brilliant victory when they managed to halt Watertown in its effort to be selected for the Tech Tournament.

In connection with this year, 1943, we must mention the sincere efforts with which both the teachers throughout the city and our Waltham High girls handled the vital problem of rationing foods and other materials. The teachers did the actual computation of quotas, while the pupils performed the duties of ushering.

During the entire year, the sale of war savings stamps was conducted every week in the home-rooms throughout the school. A large percentage of pupils in each class bought their stamps regularly until the total sale on March 17 reached $4,577.50. This was accomplished in the course of seven months, and we are all proud of it!

Because of the difficul prevailing conditions and restrictions, the annual Senior Play had to be cancelled. We all thought that it would have been fun to have it, but with the Dramatic Club carrying on as usual and other activities taking up quite a bit of our time, we were not too disappointed.

And now we are gathered here — mindful of the fact that we, as a class, have necessarily been deprived of a few of the peace-time privileges. But in years to come, it will be the little things about which we shall reminisce wishing with all our hearts that we could spend at least one day back in good old Waltham High School. Then through the mist we shall see the word "Excelsior", which will serve to renew our pledge of "Onward and upward" forever!

HARRIET BRUYA

ATTACK!

We flew one day high in the blue
Above the sea, we pilots new.
From far U. S. we'd just come here
To fight for the ones that we hold dear.

We cruised along up in the sky
Formation flying, ceiling high.
Echelon, then section "V"
And then, ahead, the enemy.

Our skipper led us to the fight;
It really was a glorious sight.
Planes versus planes, man against man;
I'll never forget how that fight began.

We dived; our Brownings roared and chattered.
German slugs, our windshields shattered.
Then in my sights a Teuton plane;
It crashed below, its pilot slain.

The fight half over and I not hit,
Then hard on my tail a Messerschmitt.
I looped and snared him in my sight;
My first shot burst killed him outright.

The planes reformed in echelon.
We grimly noticed two planes gone,
And each to himself swore a silent oath
To fight, remember, and avenge them both.

We remembered that fight throughout the war,
Avenging those two a hundred times more.
But more than all when we look back,
We remember the Skipper's terse, "Attack!"

SOMETHING OLD AND SOMETHING NEW

Class Will

BE it remembered that we, the Class of 1943, being of sound and disposing mind and memory and wishing to direct in what manner our possessions shall be disposed of after our departure, do make and publish this, our last will and testament. After the payment of our just debts, we bequeath and devise as follows.

VENIETTE CASWELL
Writer of Class Will

To Mr. Goodrich, our greatest supporter and staunchest friend, who has listened to all our troubles and excuses and still retained his self-control, we leave the senior class of 1944, who, we are sure, will live up to the ideals of Waltham High School. We commend Mr. Goodrich for the valuable work he has done, and hope that his future years as headmaster will prove as successful as those of the past.

To Mr. Ward, that immortal submaster, who has made more good citizens than a dozen history books, we bestow this permit which will allow him to enter the Boston Public Library at any time during its visiting hours and explore the countless volumes of great masters.

To Mr. Morang we leave this thought: through the years to come we will remember our teacher of chemistry who could give out those hard knocks which served their purpose. So we say with all seriousness, "You have what it takes."

To Miss Clement, our professeur of French, we leave a year's supply of vitamin pills which she surely must use to produce in her pupils such pep, vim, and vigour. They may be taken according to the directions, but if an especially difficult class is present, we suggest a double ration.

To Miss Flagg we leave our thanks and sincere gratitude for everything. Perhaps when you are wlecoming new senior classes, you will give us a little thought and remember some of those boys and girls 'way back in "43".

To Miss Scottron, whose exuberant energy knows no bounds, we offer this toast of love and esteem: We shall never be able to repay you for all the assistance you have given us and for all those pleasurable hours we have spent in 206. May "excelsior" also be your motto.

To Miss Woodward, idol of career women, we leave a staff to lean on when the work becomes too onerous. However, knowing Miss Woodward as well as we do, we doubt if it will be needed.

To the graduating class of "1944" we present on behalf of "Butch" Segien the proceeds of the Senior Dance, which if it be anything, may be used in anyway whatsoever as long as it does not interfere with the carrying out of this will.

To the cafeteria, commonly known as the dungeon, we leave the blueprints of a new open-air dining room equipped with an orchestra in the hope that, while music soothes a savage breast, it might also improve the condition of the poor, slaving student.

We hereby nominate Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Mosher, and Mr. Hood, all of Waltham, County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as co-executors of this, our last will and testament. in testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand and in the presence of three witnesses declare this to be our last will this second day of June in the year one thousand, nine hundred and forty-three.

CLASS OF 1943 by VENIETTE CASWELL

Class of 1943

On this second day of June, A. D., 1943, Veniette Caswell for the Class of 1943 of Waltham, Massachusetts, signed the foregoing instrument in our presence, declaring it to be their last will; and thereafter as witnesses we three at their request, in their presence, and in the presence of each other, hereto subscribed our names.

Codicil To The Last Will and Testament

Be it remembered that we, the Class of 1943, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and wishing to direct in what manner our estate shall be disposed of after our departure, do make and publish this, the codicil to our last will and testament, hereby ratifying and confirming said will in all respects except as changed by this instrument.

We hereby nominate and appoint Cynthia Beaver executrix of this, the codicil to our last will and testament, and we hereby request that she be exempt from furnishing any surety or sureties on her official bond.

To Richard Worrell, our boy most likely to succeed, we leave this pair of loaded dice; not to be used for pleasure, but as a protection against the scavengers that pursue the successful man. If this vice should become a hobby, we offer the Book of Knowledge as a diversion.

To Shirley Gray, that protegee of Einstein, the girl whose report card produces a sigh from the less fortunate and whose brains will surely earn a million, we leave this government edition on "How to Pay Your Income Tax and Still Live."

To Paul Washburn, the man whose right arm is in a cast most of the time from signing autographs, the darling of the senior class and our most popular boy, we present this "Home Waving Set" so that he won't disappoint his fans on the days the beauty parlors are closed. You can make your own, Paul.

To Marie Dion, the most popular girl, with personality plus, we leave this little black book with the names and addresses of the boys from the senior class now in the Service. We expect Marie to spread a little of that sunshine.

To Paul Hill whose good looks are the envy of men from coast to coast (who with a mustache would look like Clark Gable), we leave this mask to conceal and protect his face from windburn, sunburn, and over-zealous women.

To Louise Johnson, our best-looking girl, that dazzling blonde who makes everyone look twice, we bestow this slave bracelet, a token from the poor captured Class of 1943.

To "Funky" Lyon, the class clown and organ grinder's delight, we leave this chain that may prove of use to a certain brown-eyed senior or to that little man with the musical box.

To Roy Ostrand, who has been chosen best-dressed among the boys and who has forsaken civilian clothes for the best suit of all, the uniform of the United States Army, we bestow this pair of spats to protect his highly polished shoes and to hide ankles grown thin from too much marching.

To Marie Cannistraro, whom we consider the best-dressed girl in the senior class, we present that common and everlasting institution, the safety pin, that she may never be caught in a situation with which she could not cope.

To Ruth Spicer, brightest social light, we leave this harmful little canine, man's best friend, who should do his part in keeping the wolves away from the door. "Beware of the dog, boys!"

To John Furdon, this year's edition of Flash Gordon, we present this pair of dumbbells from the collection of Charles Atlas, the great muscle builder, who feels that with a little training from "Your Daily 1, 2, 3's", presented every Monday morning, and a correspondence course that army life will not be so bad.

To Mary Castellano, the most Athletic Girl, we present this can of 3-in-1 oil, whose sole purpose is to lubricate those rusty joints when they become stiff from over-exercise.

Lastly having disposed of all our earthly goods and burdens and paid our just debts, we leave this warning to the occupants of that grand old school, "Don't carve your name on the desk, because your estate can be attached always for a can of varnish."

We hereby nominate and appoint Miss Callanan, Miss Spencer, and Miss Eaton as co-executors of this, the codicil to our last will and testament, and we hereby direct said executors to pay all our just debts and costs of administration out of our estate. We hereby request that they be exempt from furnishing any surety or sureties on their bonds.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand and publish and declare this to be the codicil to our last will and testament in the presence of the witnesses named below, this the second day of June, A. D., 1943.

Signed—The Class of 1943
By—Veniette Caswell.

On this second day of June, A. D., 1943, Veniette Caswell for the class of 1943 of Waltham, Massachusetts signed the foregoing instrument in our presence, declaring it to be their last will; and thereafter as witnesses we three at their request, in their presence and the presence of each other, hereunto subscribed our names.

REFLECTIONS

There are flowers and voices in the purple dusk,
Diamond lights in darkness,
Good smells of pines, of wind and fragrant musk
And violins with yearning sadness.

There are tears, full laughter, sweet and deep
Anger, futility, splendor, sweat,
Tranquility of ocean in mighty silent sweep,
The good security of friends well met.

Rare beauty, shortly glimpsed; sharply cut
In steel on life's brief page,
And then the weighty, tender book is shut
For all —for fool, for me, for sage.

Class Prophecy

JOAN E. TURNER
Writer of Class Prophecy

ON a bright, sunny summer's day in the State of Oregon, while I was wearily plodding along a dusty road, thinking how nice it was to have escaped from that terrible industrial school where Hugh McGuire's cooking gave me indigestion, and Jimmy Shea's practicing of "Jersey Bounce" was almost unbearable, I found myself at some crossroads. Not knowing which way to go, I sat down under a gummy pine tree to meditate; then getting rather sleepy, I removed a well-used piece of Kleenex from my right shoe, placed it carefully under my left ear, and lay down to rest. Many pleasant day dreams of butter, shoes, coffee, sugar, gas, and meat were running through my head, when the sound of a motor approaching on the right hand road brought me to attention. Immediately recognizing the occupant, I jumped up and hailed Nancy Calkins to a screeching stop on her modern design scooter. "Well, fancy meeting you", I said, "and whither art thou bound?"

"Wal, I got a letter from Charlie Quigg, a missionary in China, saying that he wouldn't be able to get home for Waltham's World Fair this next year. I needed the exercise, so decided to ride across the country and tell Chairman Dick Hovey the news, but it was such a long scoot that I stole Mary Abramo's vacuum cleaner motor just to make things easier, — besides, she never uses it. Wal, if I want to get there by winter, I'll be shovin' off. Good luck to ya' " — and she was gone.

Following slowly in Nancy's dusty trail, I came to a little gray house on the outskirts of a town, in front of which was hanging the eye-catching sign "Washings taken in — it's up to you, to wring." Boldly I walked up the tulip-bordered path and knocked on the door, which promptly caved in. Esther Gray herself came to see what was the matter, and invited me in for a three-minute chat only, as she was very busy. She told me that her husband, F. Frank Lyon, was working two shifts at the local saw mill tacking up union notices under the direction of that little buzz-saw, Marie Dion. However, fully convinced that she trusted him, I said my adieus and continued on my way to town.

I had not advanced very far when I saw a moving van curiously parked horizontally across the road. Walking around to the open back, I peered in just in time to see Alan Kniznik slip an extra ace to Joe Steed in their somewhat crooked game of cards with opponents, Dick Meade and Fran Waldron. "Hey, little chum!" yelled Dick, as he turned over the sizzling egg in his hand. (I always knew that lad would be hot stuff some day.) "How's business?"

"Not so good", said Joe, "but I know why. We took for our slogan 'If we can't move it, it burns', and people are just afraid to take a chance."

"No wonder", I quipped and retreated hastily amid a shower of cards.

Walking aimlessly along the road again, I came to an arrow-pointed sign which read, "Airport— 2 Miles". I looked to see how my shoes were taking it, and decided to venture. A convertible coupe was roaring along the road behind me, and as it reached the corner, Robert Fraser stopped and offered me a ride to the airport. Gladly accepting, I hopped into the front seat, so as not to disturb Warren Perkins sitting in the rumble seat reading a book about how Charles Atlas makes men out of mice. Bob told me that he was chief mechanic to Bert Powers, who had a lot of trouble getting the plane off the ground for his daily flight to Porter's portico. "My, is that still going on!" I thought, but said nothing. Also, I learned that Alice Agopian had finally reached Hollywood and was starring in the new short "A. B. C.'s" opposite that handsome villain, Bud Hathorne. "I've seen it four times already", Bob confided, "just trying to remember that technique". I also learned that Anna Gould, scoop reporter, said that Walt Disney has a sensational find in Priscilla Webb.

Then we were at the airport. The car was left in the parking lot in charge of John Carney, a specialist in his line, and we walked towards the hangars. On one building George Kaitz and Richard Stanton were busily scrubbing windows, while Donald Robinson was gingerly holding the ten-gallon Windex bottle. You might have thought they could have found a less "paneful" occupation, but at least they were assured of a bright and shiny future. Ah me! Suddenly death-defying screams pierced the air, and hostesses Shirley Hosmer, Margot von Romonatosky, Anne Antico, Margie Kelly, Alice Dow and Pauline Nanos came rushing out from one of the hangars, scattering in all directions. They were being chased by pilots Bill Bartel, Joe Rhodes, Chick Malloy, Roy Ostrand, and Sumner Blanchard. "My, those lads haven't changed a bit", I thought. As Sumner was the last one, I stuck out my foot thus — neatly tripping him. When he glared up at me from his ridiculous position, I deluged him with a multitude of questions. To my knowledge were added the facts that Dyson Kring was supervisor at John Warner's; that Charlie Tankel, Bob Hathorne, Dottie Sharpe, and Stan Kakis had a dance band and were touring the Indian Reservations with dancer Marcia ("Queenie") Davis, and "duetists" Vera Dunbrack and Lillian Feneley; and that they had recently met up with imposter Alie Dion, who was selling rugs with the enticing line — "You bettee my carpet is a corkum".

After leaving Sumner, I went into the lunchroom for a "snack" at the soda fountain. Herbie Darling, immaculate in purple shorts and a yellow "beanie", waited on me. Here I heartily enjoyed a three-sandwich lunch with two cups of coffee. But there was the little matter of paying, and I had no money for "Mal" Pearce, the cashier. She looked at me, and with her vocal rendition of a perfect high G, bouncer Angie Castellano appeared. With a playful little yank at my collar he cruelly ushered me into the kitchen to wash dishes. Here were Ruth Dacey, a dietician; Ruth Ham, the meat cutter; and Betty Owen, who was continuously screwing and unscrewing an olive bottle. They glared as I plunged the dishes viciously into the water, which was super-saturated with Ann Fisher's scrub suds for dishes. When the task was finished, I wearily walked out into the dusky evening.

A group of "females" intrigued me; I stopped to watch their maneuvers. I recognized Cynthia Beaver, Mary Phipps, Yvonne Aucoin, and Gertrude Green, who were vainly trying to lift manhole covers in search of — you guessed it — men.

Hearing angry voices behind a door to my left marked "Aircraft Routing, Malcolm Hayes", I drew nearer to listen. I was startled when the door opened and Dick Blanchard came storming out, accompanied by Arthur Murphy and Paul Hill, who, I gathered, were all angry at Anthony Vanaria, their representative. It seemed that instead of mapping them out an airline route in Florida, as requested, Anthony spent all of his time on the beach drawing pictures of Veniette Caswell, Marie Cannistraro, Hope Stearns, Audrey Johnson, Erdine Conroy, and Louise Johnson. The girls deliberately enticed him by parading up and down on the beach, he vehemently declared.

Overhearing that Emily Buckley, aviator, was flying Secretary of Labor, Claire Weagle, and Rear Admiral Bob Ohlsen to Waltham that night in plane No. 19, I hurried to that plane, strapped on a parachute, and stowed to await the departure. After what seemed ages, the plane shook with vibrations, someone yelled "Good luck", and we were off. It was very dark, and there was no sound except the steady drum of the motors. How I would have relished one of Joanne Horgan's "Thrill for the Kill" murder books and a flashlight equipped with some of Agnes LaRosee's "Non-flattery batteries" in it, but wishful thinking was to no avail. I was inclined to be air-sick, when I remembered a movie adapted from a play by that Latin derivative Pat Nudans — Peeling to most people. Its title was "Go to Bed.', U. S. Chief Librarian Richard Worrell and his associate Vincent Cacace, censors of love books and "stuff", acclaimed it as the season's best In the movie, a pilot jumped out of a plane, counted 1 to 7, couldn't remember the rest, and landed kerplunk in Yellowstone Park. Not intending to do just that, I carefully rehearsed my numbers, opened the baggage entrance, and jumped out. 10! I pulled the rip cord, and, with the parachute billowing above me floated to earth. As it was very dark, I could see very little, but I felt the ground as I came bumping almost onto the porch of a little cabin. Two figures in the shadows to my right sprang apart, and none other than Caesar (don't-bury-me) Joyce boomed out "Who's there?", "Me," I meekly replied, "where am I?" "Oh, this is Drury Lane" was the answer, and he disappeared into the deeper shadows.

Finding the door, I rang the little tinkling bell. Professor "Mert" Olson, bug scientist, came to the door and cordially invited me in. We reminisced for a long time about our friends, our teachers, and the good old days at Waltham High. (Incidentally I found out that I was in Ohio.) Prof. Olson told me that Jean O'Neil was a good nurse, but found it difficult to secure employment since the time she was caught playing murder in the corridor with Doctor John Joyce, the hospital surgeon; that publishers Gladys Nottenburg and Virginia Winslow had established a local funny book factory, and were driving everybody crazy by publishing so many moron jokes. She also said that Joe Madden, Dick Reed, and Joe Demeo were full-fledged girl scouts in Harold Ferguson's pack, strange as it might seem. A queer world!

And too, that Mayor Al Martin and Recreational Director Butch Segein were protesting the use of square balls in Jean Bowler's alleys, but did concede it to be a woman's world. On Prof. Olson's insisting that I have something to eat, we enjoyed together a hearty meal of pancakes, Shirley Gray's liquid fudge (something new), and one-half teaspoon of Bob Hansen's laughing livers, after which I departed.

Feeling refreshed and happy and the day being clear and cool, I had the urge to reach Knocksville, and stroll through the familiar Poirer Park, past Crosier's toothpick mill, by Vincello's "Bicycles for Sale and Rent", and perhaps see Doris Foote's shoe shop. I made it. From a good vantage point I saw Doris in person supervising the wedging of Phillis Scammon's foot into a size three and a half pink and yellow striped pump, while floorwalker Bob MacDonald was occupied at the pushing end of this "superman" feat, with perspiration dripping from his chin.

At a big bang behind me in the street, I turned around very quickly and saw Barbara Cheney, Ruth Spicer, Irene Joslyn, Irene Joyal, and Barbara Davis surprisedly disarranged in the back of a WAAC's paddy wagon. Royce Taylor and Lt. Harriet Bruya emerged from the cab, looking most unhappy as they surveyed the flat--as-a-pancake tire. From some source jacks appeared. Then they all settled down to play.

This was too much for me. I was decidedly tired. An oak tree in the park offered friendly shelter and shade. Flinging myself under it, I immediately dropped off to sleep; for how long, I do not know. I was awakened by throbbing feet and a voice calling my name. Paul Washburn, local Chief of Police, stood over me, deeply absorbed in tapping the bottoms of my feet with his "billy" club. When or how I reached Waltham must ever remain a mystery.

It was a dream — or was it?
It would seem real, if anything is real that is part of yesterday.
Rather say it was both yesterday and today.

RADIO BROADCAST

Waltham High participated in the weekly radio literary program "Of Books and Victory", broadcast over station WEEI, when Betty Ryan read a prize-winning review of Michael DeCapite's novel "Maria", and Beverly Myers gave a salute to the City of Waltham.

Following are the compositions which won for them this honor:—

"MARIA", by Michael DeCapite Reviewed by BETTY RYAN, '44

"Maria" is the flesh and blood story of a valiant young American girl, daughter of immigrant parents, and of her life in a teeming city block. A child bride, unhappily married to the brutal, handsome Dominic, she finds contentment and security in her children.

Writing of a down to earth woman who lives in the hectic world of today, the author fills the pages of his book with all the happiness, the small tragedies, the humor and the frustration of everyday living.

Michael DeCapite, the young author of this very moving novel, tells with complete understanding of the problems confrontnig the immigrant; the desperate struggle of some to learn our rules for success; the insurmountable barriers in understanding which separate the first generation from the second, and the contempt of the American children for old world parents and customs.

With subtle simplicity it tells of the pathetic eagerness with which the alien attempts to become a part of our way of life. The underlying theme seems to be the author's conviction that only those who are willing to contribute their efforts toward a better America will eventually be assimilated into our scheme of things. But counteracting the sober vein of the novel is the swift humor and wit of Pepi, Maria's loveable father, while the sharp-tongued, shrewish Mama Rosalie, his intolerant wife, attempts futilely to repress him.

The embodiment of all Maria's hopes in her children, her pride in their very average successes, her ultimate contentment as they reach a glowing, vital maturity, her yearning sorrow for the broken Paul are typical of American women everywhere and cast a hopeful ray on the future of the country.

Here we have distinctive writing, with a warm understanding of people and of their emotions. The very appropriate simplicity of this novel leaves the reader's mind unhampered by confusing ambiguities, free to delve into the wealth of characters so beautifully portrayed by this young and very promising author.

SALUTE TO WALTHAM By Beverly Myers, '44

When strangers are introduced to residents of Waltham, Massachusetts, they often say, "Why, yes, of course I've heard of Waltham. The 'Watch City' is it not?" Our commercial city's fame has been widely spread through the much publicized Waltham-made watches, and this is truly our major industry. At the present time, Waltham's plants and factories are fast at work producing materials so essential for victory, and Waltham is doing its part successfully in aiding the war effort.

The first recorded exploration of the land, now comprised within the limits of Waltham, was on the twenty-seventh of January, 1632, when Governor Winthrop led a small expedition up the Charles River, eight miles from Watertown. Once explored, the colonization of the newly-founded town flourished. Waltham was the one hundred and forty-fifth town incorporated in the state, and the name was supposedly derived from the former inhabitants of Waltham Abbey, England. Waltham, the name of an English town, comes from two Saxon words, Weald-ham, meaning "Forest home." The name is very appropriate, for many of the remaining estates, such as the old Governor Gore estate, are existing proof of the beauteous wooded landscape, that can still be viewed and appreciated in many sections of the city.

The first public town meeting was held January 18, 1738, and an immediate provision was stipulated by the newly formed council, for the establishmnet of a school. A church was also erected, and to the Pastor was granted a salary of 50 pounds and 30 cords of wood.

The exact date of the establishment of a high school is not known, but a report of the school committee is 1842, speaks of the difficulty of two teachers teaching 16 subjects to one hundred and eight scholars in a single room, so in 1869 a new building was erected at a cost of $50,000. Our present structure was erected in 1902, and later wings were added in order to accommodate the present enrollment, which numbers well over a thousand.

Waltham boasts the first complete cotton mill in the United States. It was established in 1814 by Frances C. Lowell. The factory has been greatly enlarged and at the present day is known as the Boston Manufacturing Co. The constant growth of the city is largely attributed to its industrial and commercial status.

We residents of Waltham feel confident, that with the continued diligence and efficiency of all those employed in the war plants, and also the volunteer workers protecting the home-front, "The Watch City" will proudly remain one of the best-equipped cities for home defense in Massachusetts.

SATURDAY NIGHT IN AMERICA

This is a big topic, but then America is a big place, a place which has thousands of cities and towns. All these towns have many things in common and one of the most important of these is Saturday night. It is one evening out of the week where from the big cities right down to the smallest village the lights shine, and people are either gay or sad. You could walk down any main street in America on Saturday night and you would see the buying and selling, the laughter and shouts, all signifying the evening that terminates another week. You might even call Saturday night one of the great American institutions.

Let us walk down some main street in our imagination on this night of nights. We first pass the pharmacist. There we see what is commonly known as the "drug store cowboys", those "sharp" characters who know all the answers. We walk on down the street to Tony, the popcorn man; he is eternally turning out his popcorn and chasing the kids away. We next enter a department store crowded with women and their bedraggled husbands dragging after them. Then we just walk along the street viewing and admiring the lights, the lights that brighten everyone's face and send bright gleams of thought into everyone's mind. These are the things which together have the meaning of the American way of Life. Although the lights I speak of are to-day dimmed out, they will all be on someday with a much brighter gleam; and with these lights will come a bigger and brighter Saturday night in America.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB 1942-'43

President, Bertrand Powers; Vice-President, Marie Dion; Treasurer, Shirley Gray; and Secretary, Richard Mongeon. These officers led the ever growing Dramatic Club this year with the membership we are proud to say of 125.

All four classes of the High School have been extremely cooperative despite the turmoil of a war year. We had an enjoyable Christmas Party in which we gave up our usual gift-presenting program to donate our gifts and money to the Youth for Victory Council who, in turn, gave the collection to the U. S. O. for Waltham boys in the Service.

We were thankful to note that among our members, which consisted mostly of young women, war and defense work having first call on the young men, there were those whose talent was appreciated in making our monthly meetings successful. We had more than one gathering based on local talent. Even with all the rationing, a committee of the Dramatic Club, headed by Hazel Boston and Anne Fisher, gave us refreshments at every meeting.

Vying with the plays for top place in our calendar is the picnic which we usually have at the end of every school year, and which, this year, will be just as successful even if we don't have "weenies."

Finally, to complete the goings-on of 1943's Dramatic Club, we extend our sincere thanks to Miss Mehring, our faculty adviser for her patience and good humor at all times, especially during the period of practice of the two one-act plays and the two dramatizations which were given April 2, 1943, in the High School Auditorium. Our program was Tell the Truth, Dear, After the Air Raid, Romeo and Juliet à la Dramatic Club, and Pink for Proposals. The evening was financially as well as dramatically successful.

The Dramatic Club still stirs and holds interest in Waltham High School. We are determined to produce plays and entertain our members and their friends as well as we know how. If you missed our work this year, do let us see you next fall.

ALOYSE MARTIN
Mix clever baton twirling with sundry acrobatic stunts, spice with plenty of auburn hair and the result is what you would expect — one of the top drum majorettes of New England.

DRUM MAJORETTES

From the distance comes the sound of spirited music, then we see the bright colors of flags whipping in the breeze and columns of high stepping, baton-twirling girls in their white uniforms. All eyes follow with approval the perfect cadence and rhythm of the marching, baton-twirling, and acrobatic drum majorettes. Thus do they bring color and gaiety to our sports events.

Among this group of talented young people is one who merits special mention. Aloyse Martin, high stepping majorette, has participated in the following contests and won prizes ranging from a Waltham Watch to a diamond ring.

1. Boston Garden Contest, 1st prize
2. Worcester Auditorium, 3rd prize
3. Braves Field, Boston, 3rd prize

Connie was noted for his tight defensive play at guard. He was an excellent scorer as well.

FOOTBALL

THE 1942 FOOTBALL SEASON IN RETROSPECT

On the basis of cold statistics the team's record of four wins, one tie, and five losses was not impressive. A breakdown of the schedule, however, shows that the competition from the opening to the closing game was terrific. Wins were registered over Class A teams Arlington, Lawrence, Haverhill, and Lynn English. Medford, Everett, Newton, Brockton, and LaSalle Academy of Providence were the teams defeating Waltham. Omitting LaSalle, an out-of-state adversary, these teams were the four top clubs in Class A in the State. The sole tie game was with Leominster, a scoreless deadlock.

Had the team's running attack been as effective as its forward passing more games probably would have been won.

Johnny Furdon was the outstanding player on the club, winning all scholastic recognition. Koulopoulos and Erickson were the principal passers, with Driscoll, Gregorecus, and Chiarelli assisting. Dick Segien's brilliant punting helped the team out of many a tight spot. Other players who deserve mention are Dorval, M. Innis, Romano, Coolidge, and Rigoli.

An encouraging forerunner of the future is the number of veterans slated to return next year, the only regulars lost through graduation being Furdon, Kakis, McCarthy, Britton, and Segien.

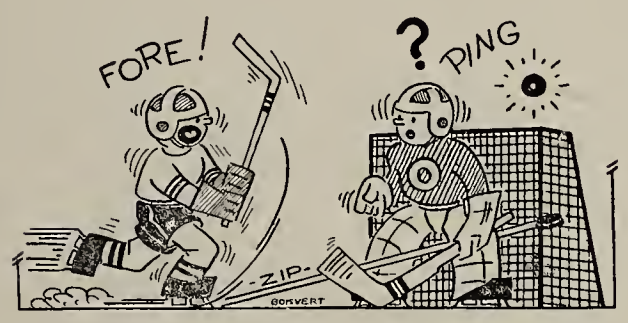
HOCKEY



HOCKEY

By defeating Boston College High 4 to 0, Waltham ended the season with five victories, four losses, and one tie. This gave the Brinn hockeyists eleven points, putting them into fourth place, behind Wellesley.

Considering the fact that Coach Brinn had only one experienced veteran, he turned out a smooth-clicking sextet.

In the defensive position Fred Jones and Russ Stinehour turned in better than average performances. Many a time they broke up enemy scoring surges. Stinehour's brilliant solo goals made him Waltham's only candidate for all-star honors.

Both Joe Colletto and Tommy Page shared equal honors in the net-minding position. Together they turned aside many of the foes' shots.

Harry Tapply, Bill Smith and Joe Rhodes were the other outstanding stars who accounted for many goals.

The final scores are as follows:

1.	Waltham	8	B. C. High	2

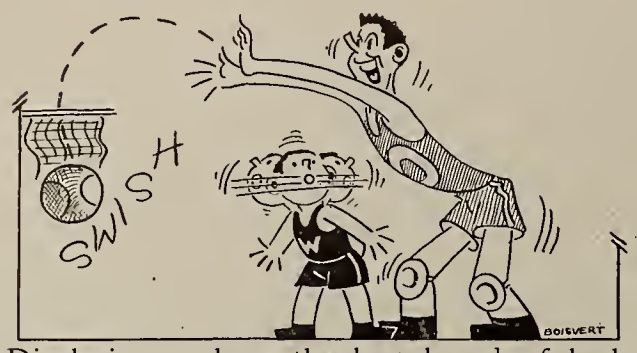
BASKETBALL



Displaying perhaps the best brand of basketball seen by the Waltham rooters, the Crimson hoopmen triumphed over Watertown in the final game of the season by a score of 35 to 30. This triumph put Waltham in a three-way tie with Watertown and Cambridge Latin.

When Art Quinn joined the armed forces, Jack Leary took over his coaching duties and did exceptionally well. As the final standing showed, Waltham finished the season with 7 wins against 5 losses. However, several of the losses were very close, with the Crimson hoopsters only 2, 3, or 4 points on the losing end.

Each man tried his best at all times, and all made a good showing. Lenny Keyes, big Al Rodenhizer, Carlo Scafidi, Bob Lally, and Paul Hill saw the most service, and each played an important part in the Waltham victories.

Even with two of its most seasoned veterans, Connie Erickson and Bob Dorval in the Navy, the Crimson hoopmen continued to play good, all-'round basketball. Occasionally mistakes occurred; but the general floor play was good.

Having played only one game because of poor weather this year's baseball team remains untried as yet. It was handed a blow at the outset when co-captain Paul Hill was lost via the appendicitis route. With co-captain Robert "Red" Joyce, Mike Kouloupolus, Carlo Scafidi, and Royce Taylor as returning veterans the team opened the season and won against Brookline 6 — 5. The starting infield comprised Bob Pratt at first, Walter Wood, a Lincoln boy, at second, Mike Kouloupolus at short, Royce Taylor at third, and big Vin Cacace as backstop. Francis Waldron, Carlo Scarfidi, and Robert "Loopie" Joyce patrolled the pastures. As the season gets underway co-captain Joyce heads the pitching department, with much expected from Jim Freeman and Tony Romano.

BASKETBALL

Basketball started after the Christmas vacation as usual, but, due again to wartime changes, many of our former competitors had dropped basketball with the result that there were no interscholastic games. There was an intra-class game, however, between our mighty Seniors and the Sophs. It was an exciting, well-fought game but too close for comfort. The Seniors came out on top with but a two-point margin. The score at the end of the game was 13 to 11.

Here is the lineup:

VOLLEY BALL

The annual Girls' Varsity vs. Alumnae basketball game and Faculty vs. Students volleyball game was held on March 25. Both teams were in excellent condition, and we were overflowing with confidence. Both games were fast and breathtaking, leaving the spectators with a wish for more of the same kind of playing. The Varsity came out on top with the score of 40 to 16. Captain Alisca Cullen led in the scoring for the Varsity with 18 points to her credit.

The lineup is as follows:

The volleyball game came next on the program. An electric silence filled the air and the ball was served over the net. From then on the Faculty and the Students had turns each making points for their respective teams. The final score was 33 to 19 in favor of the students.

Here is the lineup:

BOWLING

Girls are doing everything these days! The latest achievement has been to take up "feminine commando" training in gym! It is difficult for us to confess that it is good for us — with the aches and pains we feel, but think what the boys go through!

The bowling tournaments held every Tuesday and Wednesday from January through March, have been very successful. Naturally we cannot all make the teams, but it is fun to try and hold one's average or even go above once now and then. There were about twenty from each class there, and wind and cold kept few back.

The teams ended with Shirley Gray high on the Senior list, Shirley Porter on the Junior list, Ruth Christiansen on the Sophomore list, and Louise Collins on the Freshman list. It is rather hard to believe, but the girl with the highest average of all is a Sophomore; and yet, not so hard to believe, when you actually see Ruth Christiansen bowl. She ended with the high average of 89! The teams were as follows:

Seniors		Juniors
Shirley Gray	85	Shirley Porter	85
Mary Castellano	85	Teresa Mase	83
Ruth Wagner	82	Charlotte Anderson	83
Patricia Peeling	81	Marilyn Powers	83
Veniette Caswell	81	Beverley Cousens	81

Blanche Barbanti	80	C. Anderson
Arlene McGuinness	78	P. Peeling
Gilda Palumbo	78	M. Castellano
Anna Castellano	76	M. Powers

On Tuesday, March 30th, the Juniors beat the Sophomores, 3 to 1, while the Seniors took the Sophomores, 4 — 0. The great day of reckoning came on April 6th, when the Seniors played the Juniors. The first string the Juniors topped the Seniors with 30 points. The second string, the Seniors struggled desperately and caught up. The third string was the crowning point of excitement when the Seniors walked away with the total of 496, thus giving the Seniors the victory. The Juniors put up an admirable battle, however, and made the Seniors rise to great heights before giving in.

On the 7th of April, the teachers met with the varsity and Class teams and a few others who were next in line for the teams, for an informal and fun having time. Many of the teachers did splendidly and the girls were very apt to cheer them into spares and strikes without really meaning to. The Varsity teams were very close on every string and the tension was great. It ended with the girls coming out with a very narrow margin of 30 pins. The whole afternoon was enjoyed by both faculty and pupils, and we all hope to meet again soon.

Girls' Sports Editor.
